NO VIOLATION OF MILITARY AID TO CHINA

U. S. Embassy Spokesman Terms as Unfounded Red Report of $64,000,000 Loan of Munitions

BATTLE IN MANCHURIA

Chungking, Nov. 13.—(P)—American officials denied flatly today, amid increased reports of civil war, that the United States had gone beyond war-time commitments in military assistance to China.

An American embassy spokesman termed completely unfounded the Communist published report that China would get a $64,000,000 loan for purchase of munitions from the United States.

Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer said the United States would keep its war-time contract to equip 30 Chinese divisions but denied Communist reports that 70 divisions would be supplied by the United States. He said conversations regarding military aid to China were on a much higher governmental plane than his and he had no information on whether commitments might be increased.

In Washington, Secretary of War Patterson said "there is no danger of our troops becoming involved in Civil War in China unless they are attacked, in which event we may expect the American troops to react with vigor and success."

The Americans in China, Patterson said, are concerned entirely with disarmament and repatriation of Japanese troops and that mission is concluded with their own occupied areas to government forces.

From the war fronts, serious fighting was reported in interior Manchuria with a greater battle building up along the North China-Manchuria border.

The newspaper To-Kung-Pao, one of the few Chinese dailies with a correspondent in Changchun, reported fighting in the province had been going on "for days now and it may be imagined how hard it will be for National forces to fight their way into vast Manchuria."

A Communist spokesman asserted, without confirmation, that Nationalist troops were pushed toward the Manchurian border to deal a "serious blow" at Communist forces, presumably in the Shan-Haikwan area.

Another unconfirmed report, from Chinwangtao, said Communist troops in Shantung province were embarking at the port of Penglai, northwest of Chefoo, for southeastern Manchuria which is 70 miles across the Yellow Sea.

Eisenhower Guest At Boston Dinner

Boston, Nov. 13.—(P)—A caution against too rapid return of American soldiers from Europe was left with the nation today by General Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The general said that he believed American soldiers "should be returned to their homes," but added America's obligations "to the world and ourselves should be fulfilled."

Speaking to 500 wildly enthusiastic persons at a state dinner, Eisenhower said:

"If disintegration of our forces goes too far, it will provide evidence to the German people that we are not equal to our task, and an enduring peace may disappear and the war may have been fought in vain."

"The day of critical decision is rushing upon us."

He left by train for Washington, where, he said, he has "a temporary assignment."

Boy Romeo With Irresistible Way With Married Girls Sulk

Oroville, Calif., Nov. 13.—(P)—Sixteen-year-old Ellsworth "What a Man" Wiscaver, the boy with an apparently irresistible fascination for married women, sulked in his jail cell today awaiting the arrival of another woman—this time his mother.

In the same jail, Mrs. Eleanor Deveny, 25, Los Angeles, mother of two children, declared in an interview that she would divorce her soldier husband, now in Japan, and marry Ellsworth if he "still wants me."

"I thought I was happy with my husband as anyone could be. Then met Sonny," she sighed, x x x "It was love at first sight. He made love to me right from the start—and I couldn't resist him."

"I knew how old he was, but it didn't make any difference. He's the kind of a man every girl dreams about but seldom finds. He's more of a man at 16 than a lot of men are at 35."

Lad Believed Drowned Is Found In The Army

Bellefonte, Nov. 13.—(P)—William J. Fisher said today his son, believed to have been drowned in a quarry near here three years ago, has been found in the army at Ft. Benning, Ga., and "is likely to be home for the holidays."

The son, Clarence M. "Flip" Fisher, 24, wrote his parents early last week and telephoned them last Friday evening, the elder Fisher told a reporter. The father added the youth told him he was in a parachute battalion, under the name of William T. Atkins.

Fisher's father said a family matter was responsible for his son's disappearance in July, 1942, while swimming in a quarry. Firemen, at the time, dragged the quarry for three days searching for his body.

New Premier Of Indonesia A Moderate

By LEIF ERICKSON

Batavia, Java, Nov. 13.—(P)—Sutan Sjahrir, described as a moderate with whom the Dutch are likely to deal, became premier of the unrecognized Indonesian republic today as British forces blasted at Indonesian Nationalists in the heart of Soerabaja.

Sjahrir's selection as premier by the cabinet meant that the Nationalists had decided on a new governmental system under which President Soekarno apparently will have but a minor role. The Dutch had refused to deal with Soekarno.

A 36-year-old Socialist leader, Sjahrir retained temporarily the portfolios of home affairs and foreign affairs in the Nationalist cabinet.

Sjahrir, described as moderate and a man with whom the Dutch are likely to deal, said in an interview he would make sharp changes in the cabinet. Soekarno, just returned from Nationalist rallies at Jogjakarta, seemed destined for a subordinate position and the new prime minister was expected to allot much wider powers to his ministers. Elections were planned before Jan. 31.

The warfare between the British, charged with the task of occupation, and the Nationalists rose in intensity, with naval and field guns and RAF planes supporting troops which hammered through at least half of Soerabaja. Troops of the 49th Indian brigade battled house-to-house along a general line from the Hotel Soerabaja through the captured post and telegraph office to the Hotel Grand. Seven Indian soldiers were wounded in yesterday's fighting, but Indonesia casualties were said to have been high.

The Soerabaja naval base, meanwhile, echoed to the thunder of heavy guns of both sides.

HISTORIC HOUSE NEAR SPARTANBURG BURNS

Spartanburg, Nov. 13.—(P)—An historical farm house, which served as a wayside inn during the development of Pennsylvania's oil industry years ago, was destroyed by fire late yesterday.

The two story, frame structure used to be the stopping place of oil men when the fuel was hauled from Titusville to Corry for processing and refining.

It was owned by Frank Firth, and occupied by his family. The house was situated near Britton Run, about two and a half miles south of here. Spartanburg firemen fought the flames, but were handicapped by lack of water.

Friends, was not impressed. To him it was an old story. He refused to talk, deputy Sheriff K. Pearl and Mrs. Leota Masteller reported.

Last year, when Sonny was 14, he eloped with Mrs. Elaine Ludlum Monfred, 22, another mother of two children. They were married at Yuma, Ariz. At the request of Sonny's mother police investigated the couple as they honeymooned in Denver. The marriage was annulled.

Last Wednesday, Mrs. Deveny told the deputies, she eloped from Long Beach with Sonny, whom she had known two and a half weeks. They rode a bus to Oroville. Sonny, recently a merchant seaman, was to have started to work today at a lumber mill.

The romance was interrupted, police said, at the request of Mrs. Deveny's father, Michael Praster, who has been caring for the two children, Dennis, 4, and Ricky, three months.

London, Nov. 13.—(P)—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin announced today that the United States had accepted an invitation to cooperate with Britain in setting up a joint Anglo-American inquiry to examine the question of European Jewry and make a further review of the Palestine problem in the light of this examination.

Bevin told commonsense that there recently had been demands made on the British government for "large scale immigration" of Jews into Palestine from war-ravaged Europe.

BUDGET SLASH AND TAX HIKE FACING JAPAN

Postwar Currency Council Warned by Newspaper Radical Steps Necessary For Stabilization

ARMIES CONSOLIDATED

By RUSSELL BRINES

Tokyo, Nov. 13.—(P)—War crushed Japan must cut her peacetime budget in half and multiply her taxes by five in order to control inflation, the semi-official Postwar Currency Council reported today to the finance ministry.

The newspaper Yomiuri Hochi, reporting the sharp warning, said that the council had been charged with preparation of a five-year program to stabilize currency—already ballooned by a mushrooming black market. The council recommended a 1946-47 budget of not more than 15,000,000,000 yen. Non-military items of the present 111,434,000,000 yen budget are twice the proposed 1946-47 total. Current tax revenues of 14,000,000,000 yen should be boosted to 70,000,000,000, the council was quoted as urging.

Indicating smoothness of his occupation program despite signs of restlessness among the Japanese, General MacArthur today announced consolidation of his two armies in Japan into one force under Lt. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger.

The Sixth Army, presently under command of Gen. Walter P. Krueger with headquarters at Kyoto, will be deactivated January 26 and its personnel not eligible to return home will be transferred to Eichelberger's Eighth Army command.

January 26 is the birthday of both MacArthur and Krueger and is the third anniversary of the Sixth Army's formation.

Allied headquarters directed the Japanese government to say by December 15 what it is doing to provide the empire's 70,000,000 people with enough to eat. It further ordered by Dec. 31 a long range program for Japanese agriculture, including a report on such questions as farm indebtedness, taxes, credit and production.

Meanwhile Emperor Hirohito, whom Japanese Communists said yesterday should be named Japan's No. 1 war criminal, read a report on the end of the war to his ancestors at Ise Shrine. He prayed that "the unprecedented crisis facing the nation would be conquered and the task of constructing a peaceful nation accomplished."

The emperor is scheduled to visit tomorrow morning the Unseki mausoleum where remains of the Emperor Jimmu—Japan's first ruler—supposedly are interred, and tomorrow afternoon the Momoyama mausoleum where Emperor Meiji was buried.

Krueger, who commanded the spearhead of MacArthur's advance through the southwest Pacific, may retire.

By March, headquarters said, the only combat divisions left in Japan would be the 11th Airborne, 24th and 25th Infantry and the first cavalry. With headquarters special personnel and air force units, they would bring the entire spring occupation forces for Korea and Japan to about 200,000.

Elizabeth, Nov. 13.—(P)—Rescuers today resumed the search for the three remaining bodies of five boys, ranging from 12 to 16 years old, drowned yesterday in the Monongahela river above the dam at Lock 3 after their flat-bottomed rowboat upset.

Bodies identified as those of William Harding, 16, and Merle Kettering, 13, were recovered last night before a dense fog settled over the river and forced firemen to suspend their efforts.

Still missing were Clifford Williams, 14; Charles Lewis, Jr., 14, and Robert Baker, 12 all five of the boys were from West Elizabeth.

They, with three companions who were rescued, had gone on a holiday duck-hunting expedition on the river.

A 14-year-old girl Norma Hines, witnessed the tragedy. She said the boys had flushed a duck below the dam and rowed their skiff close to a concrete pier, apparently intending to climb an iron ladder.

BOND ISSUE FOR LIVING MEMORIAL

(An Editorial)

The Warren Times-Mirror definitely favors the building of a Memorial Athletic Field as a gesture to the men and women who served in World War II.

The Times-Mirror favors a complete Athletic Park, set-up with stadium for baseball and football, series of soft ball diamonds, tennis courts, shuffleboard installations, bathing pool, along with an auditorium capable of seating at least 4,000 persons with a commodious stage and dressing rooms for theatrical productions, church pageants, automobile shows, conventions, etc., as well as facilities for basketball, handball, boxing exhibitions, game rooms, bathing facilities for athletic teams, dancing, public forums and lectures.

According to the estimates made by City Engineer Calvin Barwis, such a complete installation would cost in the neighborhood of $400,000. This figure is not exorbitant when it is figured that all ages and classes would find recreation at the Memorial Field. Every sort of athletic endeavor would be afforded space and every age, from small fry to adults, would find something there to appeal to them.

The Times-Mirror, however, does not subscribe to the popular drive for funds idea but feels that inasmuch as every person in the county would be benefited and would find the field a "center" of various endeavors that all should have an opportunity to help in the financing of the project.

Feeling that this is the fair American way to build and maintain the field, the Times-Mirror would suggest that a special bond issue of $400,000 be made for the proper construction and equipping of the Memorial.

From all indications there will have to be a bond issue for the construction of a new sewage disposal plant and other post-war construction projects, and there is seemingly no reason why all could not be combined in one bond issue and carried out in an orderly manner. The extra taxation would be spread to all classes and for the non-property owner a per capita tax similar to that levied for schools could be added to the personal taxes. This would let all who enjoy athletics of various kinds to not only enjoy the fun provided but also to help pay a share in the costs.

A bond issue of $600,000 or $700,000 could be voted on at a special election at which the taxpayers could register their desire for such a field and also for other needed improvements in the city. This could be held either this winter or at the spring primaries, if no special election be thought advisable, and the actual work on the field could be under way next summer.

Quiet prevailed along the nation's labor front today in the wake of the Armistice Day holiday, but threats of strikes in major industries remained in the background.

The number of workers idle across the country because of work stoppages remained at around 272,000, only a slight change within the past week.

Efforts to settle the country's largest single strike, involving some 60,000 AFL lumber workers in the Pacific northwest, have stalled, said a union spokesman in Portland, Ore.

Likewise, there were no indications that the strike of AFL-CIO machinists in the San Francisco bay area for 30 per cent wage increases was nearing an end. Now in its third week, the walkout of about 12,000 machinists has affected some 60,000 workers in scores of industries.

The CIO-United Automobile Workers has delegated to a six-man committee authority to call a strike against the motor industry's "big three" at any time it sees fit. Employees of General Motors, Chrysler and Ford have voted in favor of a work stoppage to gain their demands for a 30-cent wage rate boost. General Motors is scheduled to resume wage negotiations with the union Thursday.

It was not known whether the United States Steel Corporation will accept Secretary of Labor Schwelensbach's second invitation to resume wage negotiations tomorrow with the CIO United Steelworkers.

Fourteen strikes, idling 17,173 Pennsylvanians, are "one of the most serious obstacles" to reconstruction in the Keystone state, says a government official.

Help 14 Days Too Late For Accident Victim

Gold Beach, Ore., Nov. 13.—Help came one day too late for 78-year-old Earl Stilson, who lay pinned beneath his overturned automobile for 14 days before he died.

The chronicle of his agony, scrawled with a shaking hand on bits of paper, was found with the body by state highway workmen. The last entry, dated the night before, said: "I ought to be dead" and added that he was "ready to go into his rest if it is his will."

Search parties had been hunting for the aged man for days but had stopped a mile and a half south of the place where his car had plunged over a high cliff Oct. 25.

Manila, P. I., Nov. 13.—(P)—The stream of prosecution witnesses reciting details of Japanese brutalities in the Philippine islands under command of Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita was interrupted briefly today as a 14 year old defense witness took the stand.

Bislimino Romero, grandson of Filipino General Artemio Ricarte, who allegedly collaborated with the Japanese, told the court that he had never been present when Ricarte and Yamashita, now on trial for his life, had been together.

Educated in Japan, he testified in Japanese.

Previously, Jose Galang, a prosecution witness had told of occasions when young Romero had been present as an interpreter at meetings of Ricarte and Yamashita.

Meanwhile, it was learned that the Philippine supreme court has asked Lt. Gen. Wilhelm Styer, commander of United States Army forces in the western Pacific, to show cause why a writ of habeas corpus should not be issued as requested by Yamashita's defense counsel in a move to have the war crimes case quashed.

Testimony on conditions of the Los Banos prison camp concluded as two witnesses told of the extremely meager sanitary facilities there and said that food was so scarce that pigs which normally lived on kitchen scraps starved to death.

A parade of witnesses also began testimony concerning the alleged killing of more than 7,000 civilians in Calamba, Laguna province, early in February.

Here, it was recounted, Japanese soldiers entered civilian residences and took truck loads of men, women and children away to bayonet and burn.

De Gaulle, none against and one abstention.

A week of bickering has left the three leading parties, the Communists, Socialists and Christian M.R.P. parties, unchanged in their stand on a national program. All three say they agree on a broad program of leftist reforms. The Communists assert that the M. R. P. program is not sufficiently specific.

One of the first tasks for de Gaulle will be to present his own program to the assembly.

Washington, Nov. 13.—(P)—Bitterly denouncing "government by pressure," Price Administrator Chester Bowles told congress today he is rejecting demands of automobile dealers for higher retail prices on new cars.

He said government by lobby pressure "is an ominous sign of our times."

Appearing before the house small business committee, the OPA chief estimated members of congress have received more than 5,000 telegrams protesting OPA's auto price plans.

Bowles told the committee, in the presence of hundreds of auto dealers gathered in the house caucus room, that under the OPA price schedules for new automobiles the dealer "are likely to have their best year in 1946."

He said OPA would announce the prices Thursday.

Washington, Nov. 13.—(P)—The house military committee today rejected by a 15 to 12 vote a move to defer consideration of universal military training legislation until next year.

It agreed to resume hearings on Thursday on the plan requested October 22 by President Truman. The witness that day will be General of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The vote occurred on a motion by Rep. Short (R-Mo) to defer further hearings until January. Only one witness, Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson, has been heard thus far.

The committee voted in closed session. Chairman May (D-Ky) announced the result, but declined to say how the individual members stood.

The showdown was forced by a Republican motion to delay further consideration until next year (Turn to Page Nine)

"NO REASON" FOR ECONOMIC RIVALRY BETWEEN U. S. AND BRITAIN MINISTER DECLARES

British Leader in 3,000-Word Address Mentions Only Briefly Prime Purpose of His Visit to This Country—Atomic Bomb Discussion

ANTICIPATES ERA OF INCREASING COOPERATION

Washington, Nov. 13.—(P)—Prime Minister Clement Attlee told congress today that the foundations of peace must be "world prosperity and good neighborliness." There is "no reason," he said, for economic rivalry between Great Britain and the United States.

Speaking in the house of representatives to senators and congressmen who must approve any U. S. financial aid for Britain, Attlee frankly sought to remove what he called "some apprehensions" about his labor party's program.

In his 3,000-word address, the British leader mentioned only briefly the prime purpose of his visit to this country—to discuss with President Truman the eventual disposition of the secrets of atomic bomb construction. He gave no indication of the course which the "conferences are taking."

Attlee likened his country to a man in Britain returning from the war to find "his home blitzed and his business ruined."

"We went all out to win the war and now have to start afresh," he said. "Like him, we are facing the future with courage and a determination to win together."

Attlee said he looked forward to "an era of increasing cooperation and friendship" between the U. S. and Britain. That friendship, he said, should not be "exclusive," but rather "a contribution to the knitting together with all peoples through the United Nations organization in the bonds of peace."

Although Attlee is known to have conferred with Lord Keynes on the progress of negotiations for a United States loan to Britain, he made no direct reference in his address to British requests for financial aid.

The prime minister said he believed "some people over here" imagined that the British Labor Party was "out to destroy freedom, freedom of the individual, freedom of speech, freedom of religion and freedom of the press."

"They are wrong," he asserted, adding that the Labor party was "in the tradition" of all British freedom-loving movements and "in line" with "those who fought for the Magna Charta, and habeas corpus, with the pilgrim fathers and with the signatories of the Declaration of Independence."

In following their different economic courses, Attlee said, it is important that the U. S. and Britain "should understand each other and other nations whose institutions differ from our own."

"I hope to see a world as orderly as a well-run town, with citizens diverse in character but co-operating for the common good," he said.

Attlee said the world's greatest task today is to "bring home to all people before it is too late that our civilization can only survive by the acceptance and practice in international relations and in our national life of the Christian (Turn to Page Nine)

Agreement Is Reported On Atomic Bomb

Washington, Nov. 13.—(P)—The Truman-Attlee conference was reported today to have reached general agreement on steps toward international control of the atomic bomb. An announcement is possible by the weekend.

This information was obtained from diplomatic officials who declined identification. They reported that President Truman and Prime Ministers Attlee and MacKenzie King have been in substantial agreement since their Sunday afternoon talk, and the task at the moment is one of working out the wording for a communique on which all can agree.

Tentatively, the conference may be wound up Thursday night and the communique issued Friday.

The only fly in the ointment from the point of view of American, and possibly Canadian officials, is the amount of information emanating from British sources here as to the preeminent role played by Attlee in the talks.

American officials, meanwhile, maintained tight-lipped secrecy about progress of the conference on atomic problems. There were indications from British authorities, however, that it was making good progress and that a communique would be issued by Friday.

Plane Hunts Mail Dropped From Airplane

The fact that an airplane was observed by motorists late Saturday making repeated low level flights in wide circles just east of Corry, caused a large number of inquiries over Sunday. It was learned this morning that the plane was a ship from Lawrence Airport which had been engaged to make an aerial hunt in an effort to locate a pouch of mail probably carrying airmail from Warren which was dropped from one of the All-America mail planes.

The ship engaged in the hunt Saturday was piloted by Dr. Harry Rhodes who had Russell Ream, in charge of the local pick-up station with him as an observer. The two made extensive flights over the area east of Corry and particularly of the district northeast of the Howard Company plant where the pilot of the mail plane had reported by radio to Mr. Ream that he had seen the pouch drop.

The pouch was lost on one of the regular flights on Thursday and was believed by the pilots to have landed near a small pond. Since that time, Mr. Ream has covered much of the territory on foot but neither that search or the aerial check-up on Saturday has resulted in the finding of the lost mail container. Hunters and others are urged to keep a look-out for the pouch and are asked to report promptly to the Corry Post Office or to Mr. Ream if it is located.

JOHN D. YOUNG

Word has been received here that John D. Young, formerly of North Warren, died Wednesday morning, November 7, at his home 2844 West Genesee street, Lajere, Mich., from a complication of diseases. He was born at Tiona on April 14, 1883, went to Rome, N. Y., in 1910, where he was employed at the Buick factory. On October 24, 1922, he was married to Mrs. Bertha Button and they moved to Lajere in 1925. He operated a service station on Saginaw street, in Lajere, for several years and was employed at the Pontiac State Hospital and Lapeer State Home until he retired a year ago because of ill health. He was a member of First E. and A. M. No. 23.

Surviving are his wife and one sister, Mrs. Arthur Rumsch, Warren; two stepchildren, Ralph Button, Lake Fenton, and Mrs. Frances Knickerbocker, of Mt. Morris; also several nieces and nephews.

Services in his memory were held on Friday from the Baird Funeral Home, the Rev. Frank S. Hemmings officiating and interment in Mt. Hope cemetery.

ANTONIO FUMANI

Antonio Fumani, aged 53 years, of Youngsville, died at Warren General Hospital at noon on Monday. Besides his wife, he leaves two daughters, Mary and Anna, of Youngsville; also a number of relatives in Italy.

Funeral services will be held at ten o'clock Thursday morning at St. Luke's church in Rome, conducted by Father Edward Jacobs, and followed by interment in St. Joseph's cemetery here. Friends may call at the family home on Wednesday.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our friends and neighbors for their expression of sympathy, kindness and thoughtfulness at the time of our recent bereavement.

Thomas Coupling Co. Display Is Attracting Much Interest

The Pennsylvania Electric Company is now showing in its display windows on Liberty Street the exhibit of the Thomas Flexible Coupling Company which was used during last week's sales conference of their representatives from all parts of the United States.

This exhibit comprises four panels of recent photographs showing Thomas Flexible Couplings which the company makes for Industrial, Marine, Locomotive, Mobile Unit, Gun Mount and Machinery applications. Also shown is a demonstrating stand which illustrates on a small scale the use of three styles of Thomas couplings on rotating machinery. The Thomas flexible couplings are used between such machines as diesel engines and compressors, marine engines and propellers, diesel motive engines and main generators, etc., to permit the usual misalignments that are encountered in commercial work due to wear in bearings, temperature changes, settlement of foundations, warping of the supports in locomotives or ships so that the shaft strains of one machine are not transmitted to the other. For example the crankshaft of an engine is freed of any external strains by placing a Thomas coupling between the connected machines.

A chart exhibited along with the display shows that the contribution of the Thomas Coupling Company toward the war effort consisted of the manufacture of 70,000 couplings for gun mounts, 30,000 couplings for generating sets used in auxiliary lighting, welding, etc.; 25,000 couplings used in radar equipment; 10,000 couplings for compressors, pumps, and turbines; 5,000 couplings for ship propulsion; 3,000 for Diesel locomotives; and an undisclosed quantity for the Manhattan Project. Actual couplings of many types are on display showing the high grade of workmanship turned out by this shop.

This exhibit promises to be of great instructional value to the people of Warren and vicinity since most of them have not previously been aware of the wide application of this ingenious device. Discs are shown from the smallest size coupling (used in 1/2 inch dia. shafts) to the large ones used on submarine main drives. Still larger ones are made up to 60 inch diameter but were too bulky to include in this display.

The Thomas Coupling is an all metal coupling which has a bright future in industrial applications of Power Transmission machinery as well as diesel locomotives, tractors and marine work.

Every citizen should avail himself of the opportunity to inspect this exhibit which already has excited many words of praise and surprise from those who have looked it over.

Parents' Night Is Planned At High School

Parents' Night, the official observance of American Education Week, will be held in Warren High School tomorrow evening, and members of the faculty extend a cordial invitation to all parents to be in attendance.

Teachers will be in their respective rooms from seven until eight o'clock, so that parents may greet them and talk over their children's work.

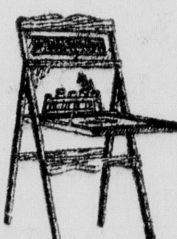

At eight o'clock a program will be presented in the auditorium, with the five winners of the B'Nai B'rith essay contest presenting their papers. These students are Wayne Klenck, Richard Harris, Elizabeth Bathurst, Elcamor Nelson and Joyce Dorrance.

In addition, the music department will present several selections. Nell Swanson as cornetist, and Nancy Maneval as vocalist, with Jean Smith as accompanist.

Store Hours In Jamestown Are Revamped

Jamestown, Nov. 13—Jamestown retail merchants after participating in a two-way telephone discussion with Chairman Edward Corst of the State Minimum Wage Board in Albany, in which retailers in 15 cities asked questions Saturday, decided voluntarily to adopt the new $21 minimum wage scale for store workers beginning yesterday.

Following the novel telephone hook-up, heard by some 2,000 merchants, the executive committee of the local merchants' association, a division of the chamber of commerce, set up new opening and closing hours for local stores, reducing operations to a 40-hour-per-week basis. The new store hours were confirmed at another meeting of the retailers Saturday morning.

Beginning Monday, retail stores here opened at 10 a. m. and closed at 5:30 p. m., with the following exceptions:

On Fridays the stores will not open until noon and will close at 9 p. m.

On Saturdays, they will open at 10 a. m. and close at 5 p. m.

Allowing for one-hour luncheon periods, the actual working time will total 40 hours per week.

ALMOST GOT RINGNECK

Officer Jerry Parks almost got a ringneck pheasant yesterday. While driving just outside of Erie one of the fine birds attempted to cross the highway in front of his car. When almost in front of the car the bird spread its wings and got away. Officer Parks regretted having to miss the big fellow but says "I did not have my hunting license with me so I couldn't shoot, but I could have got him alright."

MAY COMPLETE BUILDING

Difficulty in the securing of material for the erection of the structure which will house a bunk room and machine shop on the site of the old Pennsylvania railroad round house has slowed down the work. However it is hoped to complete this building during the next few weeks but another contemplated structure will not be started until next spring.

NEW OLDS HERE

The new 1946 Oldsmobile has arrived in Warren and is on display at the Carlson Agency on Pennsylvania avenue, east. The new machine is attracting much attention from prospective car buyers, as it is a model that embodies a number of new features and conveniences for the automobile operator. The Carlson Agency as yet has no price announcement from the company and, like other dealers, is booking orders awaiting the fixing of ceilings by the government.

TIBBETS HOLD HOPE

Park Superintendent Tibbets is hopeful that the aphids which assailed scores of trees in Warren during the past few months will not appear next spring. Mr. Tibbets holds to the view that the aphids which damaged shade trees in the city can only be eradicated by spraying after they begin work on the trees. He stated this morning that the park department had no sprays or equipment for the work but that if the aphids came back next summer such equipment would undoubtedly have to be secured. The aphids on the trees work similarly to those who damage rose buds and only continued spraying over a period of weeks can kill them. He further stated that never had he seen so many fine trees damaged by the pests.

Kathryn Ekey Weds Kane Man On Sat.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Ekey, St. Clair street, announce the marriage of their daughter, Kathryn, to Philip Sundell, of Kane. The ceremony, performed by the Rev. Nore Gustafson, pastor of the St. Paul's Lutheran church, was solemnized at nine o'clock Saturday, November 10.

Agnes Ekey, sister of the bride, and Nobel Sundell, attended the couple.

The bride looked lovely in a soldier blue suit with blue accessories and orchid corsage. Miss Ekey wore a black suit with white accessories and a yellow corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served for the bridal party and relatives. After a wedding trip to Buffalo, they will be at home to their friends on Biddle street, Kane.

Mr. Sundell was just recently discharged from the armed services.

Production Credit Loaning
Money To War Veterans

Returning veterans and service men are making increasing use of cooperative, farmer-controlled organizations to obtain credit for farm production purposes, according to a statement made by I. W. Duggan, Governor of the Farm Credit Administration and released by William Bishop, Secretary of the Meadville Production Credit Association.

"To date, in the United States, 3,450 veterans and service men have borrowed from production credit associations to purchase livestock, and equipment necessary to carry on their farming operations," said Duggan. "And we expect the number to increase materially by next spring when more of them will be returning to agriculture."

The production credit associations are farmer-controlled and co-operative and feature loans at an interest rate of 4½%. Loans to purchase capital goods such as livestock or equipment can be repaid over a 3 to 4 year period from farm income.

In addition, the production credit association provide loans for feed, seed, fertilizer and other production needs to be paid during a 12 months period. These loans can be obtained on a "Budget" basis whereby the farmer makes application at the beginning of the season for the money he needs and draws it only as he needs it, paying interest for only the actual time which it is used.

In order to qualify for a loan from the production credit association, veterans must meet reasonable credit requirements such as having an adequate farm available and a reasonable amount of stock, equipment and experience to be able to carry on a self-sufficient farming program.

Veterans who wish to buy a farm may secure assistance through the aid of a Land Bank loan. The Federal Land Banks have already made more than 700 loans to veterans totalling $1,800,000.

MUCH DAMAGE DONE

Bear Lake residents are still protesting against the damage which was done in that town the night of Halloween. They declare that the trouble was caused by youths from outside the village who tipped over small buildings, broke locks from doors of others, piled crates and other material in the center of the highway and inflicted heavy damage on some properties. The matter was the subject of a sermon in the Bear Lake church last Sunday.

LITTLE PROGRESS MADE

Construction of new homes is still in the blueprint stage because of Federal government inaction in declaring a policy on construction price ceilings, says the State Board of Housing. Demanding such a "policy at once," Chairman Ritchie Lawrie, Jr., said that "until it is decided in Washington whether or not the price ceilings are to be established on new construction, there is little hope of progress toward relieving the acute housing shortage which exists today."

STARTS NEW SYSTEM

A new system of billing and collection has been inaugurated in Oil City by the Pennsylvania Electric Company but Corry offices of the utility have had no information that the plan will be placed in effect here. A representative of the company will call each month at the homes with the bills and the payments may be made directly to him in person or mailed as previously. In rural areas near that city, the representative will call at the properties of consumers, read the meter and make out the bill, also accepting the payment on the one visit.

CAN ENLIST IN NAVY

A naval aviation cadet selection board has been established at Pittsburgh to enlist 17-18 and 19-year old boys in this area who are interested in the naval aviation preparatory program. It is expected that enlistees will be ordered to college on or about March 1, 1946. Applicants must have been graduated from high school before February, 1946, or be in attendance at an accredited college or university. It is desirable that candidates have had at least two years of high school mathematics and one year of high school physics.

CHRISTMAS FUNDS

Christmas Club owners in mutual savings banks within the next weeks will receive a total of $111,385,196, representing the accumulations of 1,608,520 depositors, according to the National Association of Mutual Savings Banks. This figure is $25 millions more than the accumulations of 1944 and demonstrates the national instinct for thrift. The average distribution will be $69.25 per account, or $5.35 more this year than in 1944.

New York ranked first in its mutual savings bank Christmas Clubs with deposits of $45,397,681 and depositors numbering 626,976, an average of $72.41 per account. Massachusetts was second with $25,969,037 deposits and 422,476 depositors, an average of $61.47. Connecticut followed with $13,862,722 deposits and 194,724 depositors, an average of $71.19.

It is encouraging to note that despite splendid support of the war loan drives, higher living costs, and the steady growth in savings deposits of all kinds, so many people have found it possible to set aside additional funds week after week for holiday purchases and other worth-while uses," says Isaac W. Roberts, president of the National Association and president of The Philadelphia Saving Fund Society. "However, may I stress that this year, as never before, the opportunity to invest in national welfare through the purchase of Victory Loan securities will assist in strengthening our economy. The early return of war veterans, the cost of contract settlements, mustering-out pay, hospitalization, care and rehabilitation,—require huge expenditures on the part of our Federal Government which must be met promptly, and I can think of no more appropriate gift than Victory Bonds nor any one more certain to be appreciated now and in the years to come. In this way we can show our sense of obligation to those who have brought about the victory."

READ AND BELIEVE IN SIGNS

Signs along the highway are to be read.

Get the habit of looking for signs. This habit will enable you to avoid danger. Persons driving over the same road week after week seems to ignore signs on their particular stretch of highway.

This creates an indifference toward signs in general. This indifference has a bad effect on the mental attitude of the driver. He allows himself to think of something else, and he finds himself up against a stop sign at once.

One situation is recalled. The driver was hurrying along a country road. Several secondary roads crossed this main highway. A main intersecting road was a few miles ahead. In approaching the intersection the driver believed it was still a mile away, and that the one ahead was a minor intersection. Stepping on the brakes suddenly, the car slipped and weaved about, and fortunately there were no other cars on the road. That experience taught the driver a lesson.

Read signs at all times, and abide by them.

WHO WON?

Secretary of State Byrnes has made public a letter from the Italian foreign minister in which the latter more or less told Mr. Byrnes what Italy would accept in the way of settling up for a war which Italy helped to make long and bloody.

Italy, the minister said in effect, is willing to give Yugoslavia, a couple of cities and turn over the Dodecanese Islands to Greece. But Italy must retain the colony of Eritrea and her northern boundary at the Brenner Pass. And Italy doesn't want any interference in settling her frontier differences with France.

Well known Warren county men, whose names had long been prominent in affairs of the two major political parties, were called by the Grim Reaper over the weekend, in the deaths of Mac Olney, former Democratic commissioner, and R. D. McKelvey, Republican committeeman in Spring Creek. Both leave hosts of friends to whom they had endeared themselves in their long and active careers.

Officers of the local posts of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars are deserving of a word of praise for their efforts in promoting a most appropriate Armistice Day observance which attracted a large crowd to the Library Theatre Monday morning at eleven o'clock.

T-H-O-U-G-H-T-S

Some More of the Same, Garcon!

Washington Daybook

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — When Brian McMahon was running for senator in Connecticut, he was discussing with a reporter why his name was not better known in his native state, although he had made an outstanding record as assistant attorney general in Washington.

"I've never been very good at personal publicity," McMahon said. "Some people just have it and some don't; I'm one of those who don't."

As chairman of the Senate's brand new committee on the control of atomic energy, the 42-year-old freshman Democratic senator won't need any flair for personal publicity. He'll get it in spite of himself. He has already started. By being in the Senate less than a year and heading what everyone agrees is one of the most important committees ever set up in the upper chamber, he has broken a long cherished Senate tradition: that to the seniors go the plums.

SEN. McMAHON was born in Norwalk, Conn., and educated there until he went off to Fordham and Yale to become a lawyer. His father, a building contractor, was in politics up to his teeth and for a long time was known locally as "watch-dog of the city treasury."

So young Brian came by his politics naturally and early. Even at Fordham, he was nicknamed "Senator" because he had said someday he would like to be one. However, all his jobs were appointive until he struck out with both fists flailing in the 1944 campaign against isolationist but able and popular Sen. John A. Danaher. McMahon's record in the Senate predicted he would win by 35,000 votes; he beat his own prediction by 5,000.

What he had done before that—

and it hadn't won him much personal publicity in his home state—was to become, at 31, the youngest man ever appointed assistant U. S. attorney general, and to hang up an enviable record in that job. Out in Chicago, he prosecuted some chums of a certain notorious "Baby Face" Nelson.

He went down into "Bloody Harlan" county, Kentucky, to prosecute coal operators and county officials for allegedly depriving the coal miners of their rights. He was maligned, threatened, even shot at, and the case was declared a mistrial, but his threat to come back and try it all over again put an end to a bloody labor war.

SEN. McMAHON is a pleasant, friendly, but serious-minded person. He is a vigorous liberal in international affairs and this, coupled with his great capacity for hard work, is what has carried him so far in so short a time in the Senate. That and undoubtedly a little private respect on the part of his colleagues for any man who could knock John Danaher down in a political race.

Aside from his professional activities, Sen. McMahon does little to attract the "personal publicity" that some members of Congress go in for. He has an attractive young wife and three-year-old daughter. He attends about as many of the Washington social functions as he should and no more. About his only hobby is golf, which he shoots in the eighties. About his closest friends are the two partners of his former all-Irish law firm, Walter E. Gallagher and Richard J. Connor.

Concerning his new appointment as chairman of the Senate atomic energy control committee, he is deadly serious. To congratulations, his most frequent comment was: "It is a grave responsibility."

Stamp News

FOR the first time in the 38-year history of Christmas seals, the name of the artist who designed this year's seal, to be sold beginning Nov. 19, by the 2,500 affiliates of the National Tuberculosis Association. Collection of these seals has long been popular among philatelists.

Park Phipps, head of the department of advertising and printing design at the Art Institute of Chicago, designed the 1945 seal and his last name appears in minute blue letters in the lower right-hand corner of it. The initials of the artist, Ernest Hamlin Baker, appeared on the 1919 seal.

The four companies printing the seals have again placed identifying marks on seal 56, the sixth from the left in the sixth horizontal row. The Eureka Specialty Printing Co. used an "E," the Strohbridge Lithographing Co., an "S," Edwards and Deutsch Lithographic Co., a "D" and the United States Printing and Lithograph Co., a "U."

A PORTRAIT of Alfred E. Smith will appear on the 3-cent stamp the Post Office Department will issue Nov. 26 in honor of the former governor of New York and 1928 Democratic candidate for President. The stamp will be of the ordinary size and the purple usually reserved for 3-cent stamps. Illustrated here, the stamp will bear the dates "1873" and "1944," marking Smith's span of life. The stamp will be placed on sale at New York and collectors may send a maximum of 10

covers, together with remittance for the stamps to be affixed, to the Postmaster, New York, N. Y.

CUBA'S two commemorative stamps, marking the 150th anniversary in 1945 of its Economic Society of Friends of the Country, have at last been issued. The Society was founded in 1793 to help the country's education, agriculture, commerce and general welfare and still is active. A 1-centavo green picture of the seal of the Society. Portraits of the two founders, Gen. Luis de las Casas, Spanish governor of Cuba, and Bishop Luis Maria Penalver, appear on the 2-c stamp.

STAMP notes in brief: Two additional values in Belgium's liberation set, described here recently, have been received, J. and H. Stolor of New York report. They are a 3.50 plus 3.50 franc blue of the civilian rifleman design and a large 5-fr plus 40-fr tan depicting a group of four men, including one with broken chains on his wrists and another with a rifle against a background of the rays of the sun.

The Portuguese Embassy furnishes the accompanying illustration of the Magellan stamp of Portugal's new eight-stamp "Navigators" issue.

From Austria comes a 1-schilling plus 10-groschen green semipostal inscribed "Republik Oesterreich" and picturing a man watching the dawn from a mountain-top.

YOUR DOCTOR KNOWS

When you feel "out of sorts," when you have an ache or a pain, well-meaning friends will gladly prescribe for your ills. Their judgment is based on what they have heard from others, and they talk glibly of what happened to Pete, Sam, or John under similar circumstances. Such friendly interest may result in serious harm. When you need medical advice there is just one person in the world qualified to give it. That is your family physician. See him promptly. Bring his prescriptions to us. They will be compounded with accuracy and dispatch.

Wounded War Veteran Protests Eviction

Their landlord wanted the rooms they occupied, so out upon the sidewalk went the family of former Army Cpl. Frank Richardson of Yonkers, N. Y., with all their belongings. Wearer of the Purple Heart and three combat stars, the veteran protests the eviction, as shown above. Mrs. Richardson holds their son, Frank.

Brotherhood Has Talk By Rev. Rogers

St. Paul's Brotherhood held its November meeting in the downstairs auditorium of the church, Rev. Edward K. Rogers speaking on "Rebuilding the Church", one of the most challenging talks the group has ever heard. The following report of the meeting and talk has been prepared for the Times-Mirror:

By his years of training and for his experiences in the ministry previous to becoming an army chaplain, Rev. Rogers is particularly well fitted to evaluate the effects of this world's most destructive war, on men and property.

The church tower often the highest building in a community was suspected of being an observation post and was often the first target for attack by foe and friend alike. Upon investigation it was often found this was not the case. In every war torn country the destruction of churches and their benevolent institutions is beyond comprehension. The toll of civilian life is far greater than suspected.

War stimulates the passions of the flesh, putting to a severe test the character of each individual in the armed service. Some surrender to their passions, some develop a beautiful character by resisting. The effect of war on Europe has been tragic. In every period of world history religion has been the greatest power in rebuilding and improving the moral and material welfare of its people.

The unsound and destructive philosophy promulgated by a group of self seeking leaders has opposed and often destroyed the doctrine of true Christianity, to love God with all our heart and mind and might and our fellowmen as ourselves". This command still stands and is the challenge to every true Christian to counter attack with love and sacrifice not only to regain the losses sustained by the curse of this tragic war, but to attain and assist in creating a New World more fully in harmony with the beautiful and constructive principles of true Christianity and the church.

Known to engineers is the fact that gasoline, heavy molecules are low in octane quality, light molecules are high octane. However, and this is the big difference, in Dynafuel, both the heavy and light molecules deliver equally high octane power, thus giving uniformly high knockless performance in all cylinders.

Sun Oil Company also announced that its policy, which was in effect before the war, of marketing only one grade of gasoline, will again be in effect. All of its extensive facilities will be devoted to the marketing of Sunoco Dynafuel exclusively.

In 1918, the military forces of the allies consumed about 39,000 barrels of gasoline a day. In World War II, the total was 300,000 a day.

New Motor Fuel Heralded By Huge Newspaper Campaign

(Special to the Times-Mirror) Philadelphia, Nov. 13.—Heralded by the biggest newspaper campaign in the history of Sun Oil Company, that organization's new motor fuel, Dynafuel, is now being offered to motorists everywhere, according to an announcement made today at Sunoco's headquarters.

Long promised by the company, long awaited by millions of motorists, Sunoco Dynafuel is not just another new gasoline, but a new kind of super power for American automobiles. In speaking of this historic milestone in the progress of American motoring, one official said, "America's victory in the air was won largely because of high octane aviation fuel produced in mass quantities by catalytic cracking, a process first developed for major production by Sun Oil Company."

"Sun Oil engineering research was carried into the secrets of the molecular construction of gasoline itself. Sun engineers found out how to tear apart petroleum molecules and put them together again in an entirely new pattern, making possible this new type of super fuel."

Known to engineers is the fact that gasoline, heavy molecules are low in octane quality, light molecules are high octane. However, and this is the big difference, in Dynafuel, both the heavy and light molecules deliver equally high octane power, thus giving uniformly high knockless performance in all cylinders.

POST-WAR ILLINOIS

When the last shot is fired in World War II, Illinois will be ready to take the job of filling the backlog of civilian orders from farms and factories. Its manufactured products, worth $6,232,863,000 in 1929, may gain reach that figure and add to the wealth of the Nation, guaranteeing War Bonds. The state's 12,000 industrial plants process meats, make farm implements and confecture and turn out vast quantities of printed matter. U. S. Treasury Department

Sec. Schroyer Will Address Route 6 Group

Purpose for which the Pennsylvania Free Roads Association was organized will be outlined at a meeting of the Roosevelt Highway Association on Friday, November 16 at 12:15 p. m. at the Penn-Wells Hotel, Wellsboro.

The Free Roads Association, a State-wide organization, is urging modernization of all primary highways. It is seeking free roads, not toll roads, and favors roads that provide easy access, not limited access, to Pennsylvania communities.

Improvement of U. S. Route 6 will be discussed at the meeting. Representative business men from communities along U. S. Route 6, from Erie to Port Jervis have been invited to attend.

Scheduled speakers include John U. Shroyer, Secretary of Highways; Howard Wittinger, Gettysburg, acting field secretary of the Free Roads group; and Raymond B. Gibbs, general secretary, of the Scranton Chamber of Commerce and secretary of the Roosevelt Highway Association.

To the People of this Community

Lieut. Gen. Robert Eichelberger, commander of the Eighth U. S. Army, said upon his arrival in the Tokyo area:

"This is the beach-head where I was supposed to land in the invasion of Japan. I certainly never expected to get here without a shot being fired at me."

The case with which we have taken over Japan is due in part to the tremendous might of our armament. Billions of dollars of your war bonds are represented by the huge naval forces, air forces and magnificent armies and supplies, which we were getting ready for "D-Day Japan." The sudden ending of the war did not wipe out the costs.

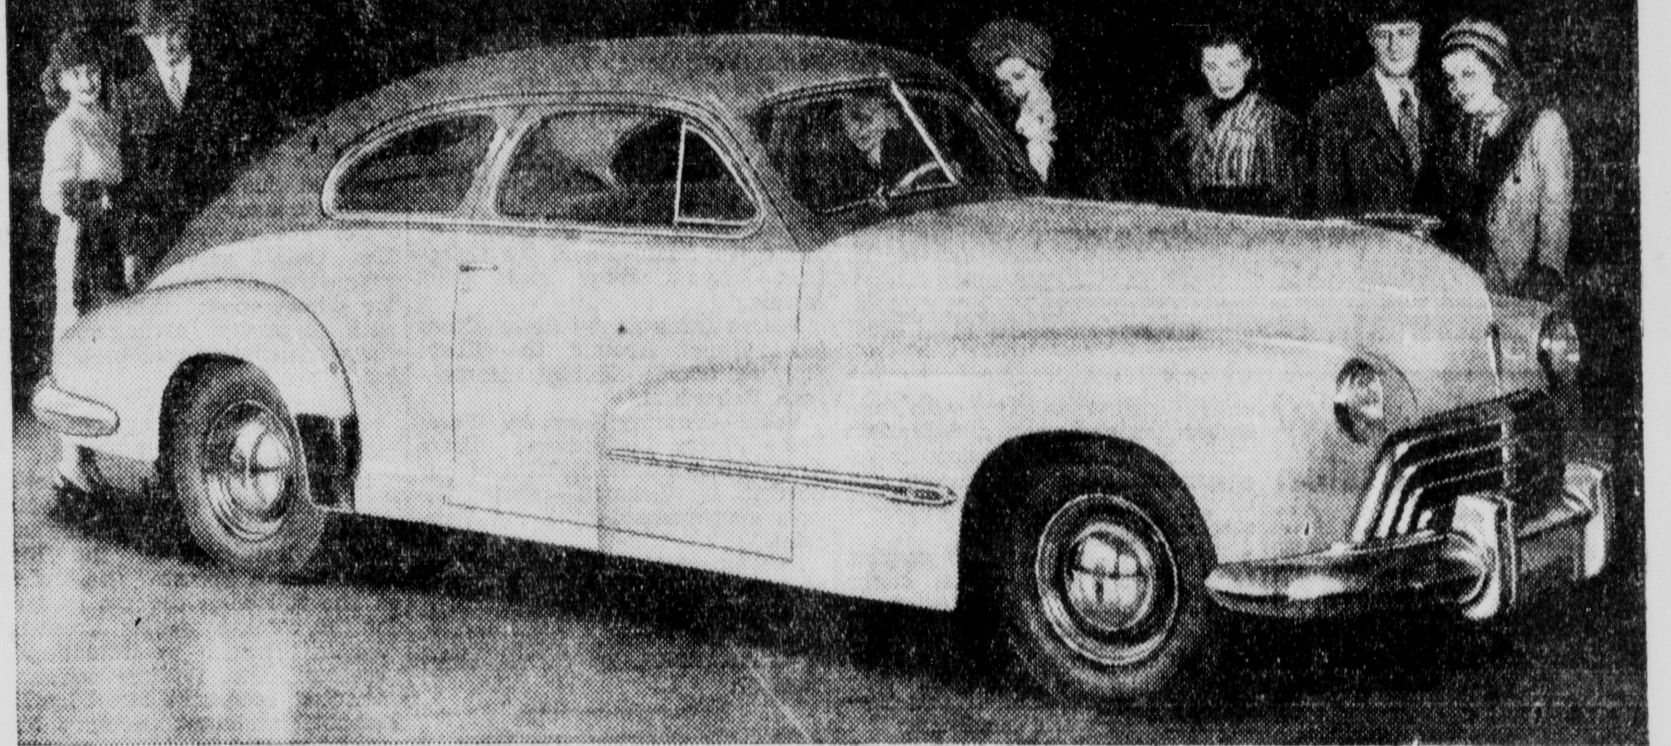

You are now called upon in the Victory Loan to buy extra Victory Bonds to foot the bill. The victory bill is being paid in extra loans to your government instead of the extra expenditure of American lives on the beaches of Japan.

1946 OLDSMOBILE

OFFERING THE NEW GENERAL MOTORS HYDRA-MATIC DRIVE

Hydra-Matic Drive is a combination of a fluid coupling and a fully automatic transmission. Gears shift automatically through all four forward speeds, and there's not even a clutch pedal in the car!

WITH MANY NEW ADVANCEMENTS

"Look to Olds For All That's New!" Look to America's oldest motor car manufacturer for the newest, smartest thing in 1946 models—and the newest, simplest way to drive. The 1946 Oldsmobile, with General Motors' new and finer Hydra-Matic Drive, is here now—for all to come and see!

And it's truly NEW in every sense of the word. The appearance is different from any previous Oldsmobile—with newly tailored lines, smart new front-end design, and newly appointed Bodies by Fisher. The performance is new, due to smoother and livelier "Fire-Power" engines. There are many new advancements throughout the chassis to provide greater ruggedness and reliability.

Hydra-Matic Drive is new, too. First introduced by Oldsmobile in 1939, and thoroughly battle-proved in fast Army tanks during the war, this great General Motors development has now been made even finer, smoother, and longer lasting than ever... for the new 1946 Oldsmobile.

You are invited to come in, see and inspect this great new General Motors car. Oldsmobile has been building quality automobiles for nearly fifty years. This newest Oldsmobile is by far the finest—the best-built Oldsmobile of all time.

FUNNY BUSINESS By Hershberger

"Bull-headed! He's flying north!"

"Well, I'll tell you! To my taste, I don't like to be spent unless my Boss gets his 100 cents' worth!

"I'd rather be sitting in a nice cool bank ready to be lent for some constructive purpose—or taking one of those wonderful, healthful, ten-year War Bond or Victory Bond vacations that bring me back to work fatter than ever—than to be out bustling from hand to hand, always buying things but not always getting my good dollar's worth.

"Today, while goods are scarce and inflation is a danger, I think you should plan to save me—and most of your other dollars—plan to spend me later when I'll help buy a house or an education for your children. I'll feel better about that, and so will you."

Youngsville BPW Has Fine Session

Youngsville, Nov. 13.—Mrs. R. L. Mead entertained the Business and Professional Women's Club at her home Monday evening, with Mrs. Elizabeth Canfield and Mrs. Helen Zahnizer as assisting hostesses.

Miss Gertrude Ostroski, president, presided at the business session and thanked all those who assisted in making the recent district convention so successful. Miss Matilda Kamber rear an interesting communication concerning business women, with many suggestions as to ways of improving personality, appearance and business efficiency.

An invitation was received and accepted by the B. P. W. Club from the Girl Scouts, who are sponsored by the local B. P. W. The note invited the members to the Girl Scouts' guests at their party to be held in the school gymnasium Monday, November 19 from 7:30 to 8:30 p. m. A feature of this evening will be the "Fly-Up" ceremony.

Plans were also made for the annual Christmas party with Rose Hubert as chairman and Matilda Kamber and Ruby Ransom as co-chairmen. Gifts are to be exchanged and some good cheer for others was planned.

Following the business session, Miss Knapp, as program chairman, introduced E. C. Stillings, who gave a most interesting talk on the subject of the "Atomic Bomb". He discussed very candidly the importance of this new discovery on world conditions.

Mrs. Helker, of the high school faculty, pleased with several piano solos. Miss Matilda Kamber and Mrs. Helker also played duet numbers.

A delicious luncheon was served by the committee. Armistice Day was remembered in the flag favors and luncheon appointments.

IRVINE LADIES' UNION HAS SESSION

Irvine, Nov. 13.—Mrs. Ernest Oviatt entertained 13 members of the Ladies' Union and one visitor Mrs. Redmond of Youngville, on Thursday evening. In the absence of the president, the Scripture lesson was read by Mrs. Oviatt, who chose the 92nd Psalm as appropriate for "the approaching Thanksgiving season". The Lord's Prayer was repeated in unison, followed by the reading of minutes and roll call. Members furnished the program, with assorted readings and Mrs. N. B. Huling reading Governor Martin's Thanksgiving proclamation, in which he urges prayers for Thanksgiving Day.

During the business session it was decided to hold the December meeting on the 13th instead of the 20th, in the form of a 6:30 o'clock chime dinner at the NPO club house, members to bring a tureen and a 50-cent gift for exchange. Mrs. Paul Nicklos was appointed chairman for this affair, with the privilege of naming her aides. It is hoped that all members can be present. The free will offering taken at this meeting added much to the treasury.

For the enjoyable social hour, Mrs. Oviatt served refreshments suggestive of Thanksgiving, with the dining room table centered with a pretty arrangement of chrysanthemums and orange tapers.

SPINSTERS ELECT OFFICERS FOR YEAR

Holding their regular meeting last evening at the home of Mrs. David Beatty, 312 Conewango avenue, members of the First Presbyterian Spinster Class elected the following officers to serve for the coming year: President, Martha Swick, reelected; vice president, Mrs. William Schwartz, reelected; secretary, Mrs. Mae McDermott; assistant secretary, Mrs. Harold Smith; treasurer, Nell Milne, reelected.

Mrs. Warren R. Carlin officiated as auctioneer for the white elephant sale, funds going to the group's White Christmas Fund. Announcement was made that the December meeting will be held in the church parlors in the form of a Christmas party.

DOUBLE PURPOSE IN ENJOYABLE PARTY

A very happy gathering of 22 relatives was held last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry R. Baxter, 111 West street, honoring Mrs. Baxter's mother, Mrs. Henry Erickson, who was celebrating her 82nd birthday anniversary, and Harry Baxter, Jr., who left today for navy training at Williamsburg, Va.

The event was arranged by Mrs. Baxter and her sisters, Mrs. Elmer Lundahl, Mrs. Walter Johnson and Miss Charlotte Erickson. The refreshments served at the close of the evening centered about a birthday cake, and both honored guests were presented with remembrances of the occasion.

LITERATURE DEPT. HAS BOOK TALK

Mrs. Gerald Archibald was guest speaker for the Monday afternoon meeting of the Woman's Club Literature Department, talking on children's gift books and having with her a collection of volumes suitable for gifts for youngsters.

Mrs. Ernest Hagenlocher was hostess for tea, with Mrs. Frank Wood and Mrs. F. E. Kieshauser pouring.

Next Monday's meeting will be that of the Community Service Department, with Warren Miller, of the high school faculty, speaking on "The Amish, Their Identity and Characteristics".

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Betty Lou Emerson, 306 Beech street, entertained 14 of her little friends at her home on Friday in celebration of her birthday anniversary. Decorations of pink were repeated in the large birthday cake. Betty received many lovely gifts, also a purse of money, from her little friends. These presents were all from the same source.

College Women to Golden Wedding Sponsor Lecture Is Pleasing Affair

The Association of College Women held its November meeting at the home of Mrs. David Beatty, 312 Conewango avenue. One new member, Meredith Jones, was accepted into the club and two members, Mrs. Arnold Kippen and Mrs. Walter Meyers, tendered their resignations because they are leaving Warren.

The College Club has been asked to act as one of the sponsors for the "Talk of the Month Club" project, and after some discussion it was decided to accept the responsibility.

Philip Benjamin, librarian at Allegheny College, gave a fine talk on "Fiction in Wartime". His familiarity with authors and books associated with both World War I and II led to a lively discussion at the end of his talk.

To conclude the evening, refreshments were served by Mrs. Elise Wendelboe and her committee.

PAK feels most fortunate in having secured the promise of Chauncey E. Davis, general secretary of the Hazleton YMCA, to be guest speaker for its Thanksgiving dinner-dance on Friday, November 23, at the YWCA, when several members will be back for the holiday and a large attendance is anticipated. Mr. Davis was on the staff of the local Y from 1935 to 1940, when he became general secretary of the Clearfield YM. He remained there three years before going to Hazleton. While here, Chauncey, as everyone knew him, was one of the most popular boys' work secretaries the Warren Y has ever had. He conducted a very aggressive program for boys, with Gray-Y clubs organized in all the grade schools and with hundreds enrolled in an extensive craft and hobby program, one of the most popular of which was his Magic Club. Mr. Davis is one who loves and understands young people and will have a message of real worth for PAK members.

Since the number of dinner reservations is limited by the capacity of the YW, members are asked to contact at once the following ticket committee in charge of Adele Erickson: Seniors and Club "17", Jean Smith, Dale Holcomb, Jack Harrington, Bill Carter; juniors, sophomores and "Preps", Betty Jean Kolpin, Janey Tritt, Sally Smith, Bill Fuellhart, Albert Marrey; freshmen and eighth grade (Green Caps), Ruth Davis, John Elliott, Nancy Geracinos, Dick Smith, Nancy Pettibone.

More than 100 relatives and friends were guests Sunday for the open house held by Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Fehlmann, Follett Run road, in celebration of their golden wedding anniversary.

Among these was Mrs. Fehlmann's mother, Mrs. Susan Jerman, who celebrated her 97th birthday anniversary in August, and was present for most of the day's festivities.

Besides Mrs. German, four generations were represented: her daughter, Mrs. Fehlmann; her son, Arthur, of Erie, his son, Willis, with the navy in Chicago; and Robert, nine months old son of Willis.

The Fehlmanns have two children, Arthur, of Erie, and Warren, at home. Children of the former are Willis, chief radio technician, Navy Pier, Chicago; Francis, recently discharged from the navy; Maurice, still in service in California; Alice and Doris, of Erie.

Out of town guests for the day included Mr. and Mrs. Steve Jerman and two daughters, Joan and Jean, Mrs. Kate Snapp and daughter, Alice, Miss Cecilia Jerman, all of Kane.

Refreshments were served from a table attractively appointed in the golden wedding motif and the couple received many remembrances of a very happy occasion.

Zwald and Mullinix Nuptials In Paris

Friends of Hubert Zwald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Zwald, 314 Jackson avenue, will be interested to learn of his marriage on November 4 to Miss Bertha Mullinix, of North Carolina.

The ceremony was performed in the American Cathedral in Paris and the newlyweds are honeymooning in the Riviera until November 14, when both will be honorably discharged from the army to accept civil service positions for Uncle Sam. They will make their home in Paris for a year. Both are talented musicians, the bride an accomplished organist, and they plan to continue their music studies in the French capital.

STUDY CLUB MEETS

The Young Mother's Study Club met last evening at the home of Mrs. Robert Sandblat, Pennsylvania avenue, east. Dr. Gail Ridselberger, guest speaker, gave an interesting talk on socialized medicine. Refreshments were served by the hostess and her committee, Mrs. T. K. Stratton and Mrs. W. E. Tiekner.

HONORS DAUGHTER

Mrs. Dorothy Dahle, of Ludlow, entertained a party honoring the 10th birthday anniversary of her daughter, Phyllis, on Saturday. Games were played and a lunch was served, after which the honored guest received many lovely gifts. An out of town guest was Anne Johnson, of Warren.

ALLEN CLASS MEETING

The November meeting of the First Methodist Allen Class is scheduled for 8 p. m. Tuesday, when Dr. LeRoy B. Campbell will speak and there will be special piano and vocal music. Every member is urged to be on hand.

LUTHER LEAGUE

The Luther League of First Lutheran church will hold its monthly business and social meeting at 7:30 this evening. A special program will be presented and refreshments will be served. All members are asked to be present.

PLEASANT GRANGE

At the regular meeting of Pleasant Grange on Wednesday evening, Miss Margery Reed, county home economics extension worker, will give a talk and demonstration on how to make inexpensive Christmas presents.

RUTH BIBLE CLASS

Members of the First Lutheran Ruth Bible Class will hold their regular meeting in the parish house at nine o'clock Wednesday evening, following the regular eight o'clock devotional period. Hostesses will be Ruth Satterlund and Mrs. Don Bjers.

MISSIONARY MEETING

Thirteen members attended the regular meeting of the United Brethren Missionary Society, Mrs. Ray Sperry conducted devotions on the theme "Thy Kingdom Come on Earth—Therefore We Must Share."

Fresh Signs Of Dissension at Conference

Washington, Nov. 13.—(P)—The labor-management conference re-assembled after its Armistice Day recess today amid fresh signs of friction on labor's side of the table.

A CIO-Auto Workers contention that John L. Lewis secretly had taken his United Mine Workers back into the American Federation of Labor led to the latest brush.

The contention—quickly denied by Lewis and the AFL—was voiced by Richard T. Frankenstein, vice president of the CIO-Auto Workers Union who told a news conference such a reaffiliation would give the AFL another vote in the conference.

Labor's 18 votes are divided four ways, with eight each for the AFL and CIO and one each for Lewis' UMW and T. C. Cashen, representing the Railroad Brotherhoods. The United States Chamber of Commerce and the National Association of Manufacturers split industry's 18 votes evenly.

Associates of Lewis denied the Frankenstein report, which the Auto Workers official said he had on "very good information," and AFL President William Green told newsmen it was "bunk." CIO President Philip Murray said he knew nothing about it.

The discussions were launched, he said, "in order that we may get together with all the nations of the world and consider what kind of a world it is necessary to have if civilization is to endure and the common man in all lands is to feel secure."

With the bomb obviously in mind, Atlee declared that the United States is "the mightiest power on earth."

"And yet," he added, "America is a threat to no one. All know that she will never use her power for selfish aims or territorial aggrandizement in the future any more than she has done in the past."

"We look upon her forces and our own forces and those of other nations as instruments that must never be employed, save in the interests of world security and for the repression of the aggressor."

The Director's Forum under the guidance of Mrs. Stanley, will be working on further plans for a Christmas assembly and the club Christmas party. Scripts for the senior class play are also being read. Bill Yeager and his group will put up the set for the junior play, "Best Foot Forward" on Thursday evening.

The towboat U-No cut loose a barge of coal and swung into midstream to pick up three of the boys. The barge floated against the river bank and was undamaged.

Frightened mothers, not knowing who the victims were, lined the river bank for hours.

Hearings On Training Bill Will Resume
or until after the senate acts. May announced last night that Eisenhower had arranged to testify in behalf of the legislation on Thursday, if the hearings are in progress then.

May described the delay motion as a maneuver to kill the legislation.

"No Reason" For Economic Rivalry Between U. S. and Britain Minister Declares

Halsey Powell Survivor Home

Lawrence Mesler, seaman first class, is home on 30-day leave with his family. He has been in the service since July 22, 1943, and a member of the crew of the USS Halsey Powell for 20 months, serving both in the Atlantic and Pacific.

He has really seen a few places, judging from the following list of battle stations: Marshalls, Saipan, Tinian, Guam, Carolines, Truk, Palau, Iwo Jima, Okinawa, Leyte, Luzon, Indo-China, Hong Kong, Formosa, Iwo Jima, Okinawa, Kyushu, Tokyo and Yokohama. Seaman Mesler was wounded on March 20 of this year off Kyushu, Japan, when a Jap suicide plane went through the Halsey Powell and nearly sunk it, killing 12 men and wounding 29. The plane plunged through the deck of the vessel and passed out the starboard side. The exploding gasoline enveloped the after end and the ship began to sink at the stern. For three days the crew battled to keep the ship afloat, while enemy planes attacked overhead. Seaman Mesler holds the Purple Heart and Commendation ribbon; also rates ten battle stars. He has just been released after eight months in the hospital and will report to Buffalo on November 26.

GENEVIEVE BRADLEY ENDS ARMY SERVICE

ATTLEE DEFENDS LABOR PROGRAM, IN TALK TO CONGRESS

NO VIOLATION OF MILITARY AID TO CHINA

U. S. Embassy Spokesman Terms as Unfounded Red Report of $64,000,000 Loan of Munitions

BATTLE IN MANCHURIA

Chungking, Nov. 13.—(AP)—American officials denied flatly today, amid increased reports of civil war, that the United States had gone beyond war-time commitments in military assistance to China.

An American embassy spokesman termed completely unfounded the Communist published report that China would get a $64,000,000 loan for purchase of munitions from the United States.

U. S. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer said the United States would keep its war-time contract to equip 39 Chinese divisions but denied Communist reports that 70 divisions would be supplied by the United States. He said conversations regarding military aid to China were on a much higher governmental plane than his and he had no information on whether commitments might be increased.

In Washington, Secretary of War Patterson said "there is no danger of our troops becoming involved in Civil War in China unless they are attacked, in which event we may expect the American troops to react with vigor and success."

The Americans in China, Patterson stated, are concerned entirely with disarmament and repatriation of Japanese troops and when that mission is concluded will turn over their occupied areas to government forces.

From the war fronts, serious fighting was reported in interior Manchuria with a greater battle building up along the North China-Manchuria border.

The newspaper To-Kung-Pao, one of the few Chinese dailies with a correspondent in Changchun, reported fighting in the province had been going on "for days now and it may be imagined how hard it will be for National forces to fight their way into vast Manchuria."

A Communist spokesman asserted, without confirmation, that Nationalist troops were pushed toward the Manchurian border to deal a "serious blow" at Communist forces, presumably in the Shan-Hai-Kwan area.

Another unconfirmed report, from Chinwangtao, said Communist troops in Shantung province were embarking at the port of Pengliang, northeast of Chefoo, for southeastern Manchuria which is 70 miles across the Yellow Sea.

Eisenhower Guest At Boston Dinner

Boston, Nov. 13.—(AP)—A caution against too rapid return of American soldiers from Europe was left with the nation today by General Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The general said that he believed American soldiers "should be returned to their homes," but added America's obligations to the world and ourselves should be fulfilled.

Speaking to 500 wildly enthusiastic persons at a state dinner, Eisenhower said:

"If disintegration of our forces goes too far, it will provide evidence to the German people that we are not equal to our task, and an enduring peace may disappear and the war may have been fought in vain."

He left by train for Washington, where, he said, he has "a temporary assignment."

Boy Romeo With Irresistible Way With Married Girls Sulks

Oroville, Calif., Nov. 13.—(AP)—Sixteen-year-old Ellsworth "What a Man" Wisecarver the boy with an apparently irresistible fascination for married women, sulking in his jail cell today awaiting the arrival of another woman—this time his mother.

In the jail cell, Mrs. Eleanor Deveny, 25, Los Angeles mother of two children, declared in an interview that she would divorce her soldier husband, now in Japan, and marry Ellsworth if he "still wants me."

"I thought I was happy with my husband as anyone could be. Then met Sonny," she sighed. "It was love at first sight. He made me to me right from the start—and I couldn't resist him."

"I knew how old he was, but it didn't make any difference. He's the kind of a man every girl dreams about but seldom finds. He's more of a man at 16 than a lot of men are at 35."

Lad Believed Drowned Is Found In the Army

Bellefonte, Nov. 13.—(AP)—William J. Fisher said today his son, believed to have been drowned in a quarry near here three years ago, has been found in the army at Ft. Benning, Ga., and "is likely to be home for the holidays."

The son, Clarence M. "Flip" Fisher, 24, wrote his parents early last week and telephoned them last Friday evening, the elder Fisher told a reporter. The father added the youth told him he was in a parachute battalion, under the name of William T. Atkins.

Fisher's father said a family matter was responsible for his son's disappearance in July, 1942, while swimming in a quarry. Firemen at the time dragged the quarry for three days searching for his body.

New Premier Of Indonesia A Moderate

By LEIF ERICKSON

Batavia, Java, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Sutan Sjahrir, described as a moderate with whom the Dutch are likely to deal, became premier of the unrecognized Indonesian republic today as British forces blasted at Indonesian Nationalists in the heart of Soerabaja.

Sjahrir's selection as premier by the cabinet meant that the Nationalists had decided on a governmental system under which President Soekarno apparently will have but a minor role. The Dutch had refused to deal with Soekarno.

A 36-year-old Socialist leader, Sjahrir retained temporarily the portfolios of home affairs and foreign affairs in the Nationalist cabinet.

Sjahrir, described as moderate and a man with whom the Dutch are likely to deal, said in an interview he would make sharp changes in the cabinet. Soekarno, just returned from Nationalist rallies at Jogjakarta, seemed determined for a subordinate position and the new prime minister was expected to allot much wider powers to his ministers. Elections were planned before Jan. 31.

The warfare between the British, charged with the task of occupation, and the Nationalists rose in intensity, with naval and field guns and RAF planes supporting troops which hammered through at least half of Soerabaja. Troops of the 49th Indian brigade battled house-to-house along a general line from the Hotel Soerabaja through the captured post and telegraph office, to the Hotel Grand. Seven Indian soldiers were wounded in yesterday's fighting, but Indonesia casualties were said to have been high.

The Soerabaja naval base, meanwhile, echoed to the thunder of heavy guns of both sides.

HISTORIC HOUSE NEAR SPARTANBURG BURNS

Spartanburg, Nov. 13.—(AP)—An historic house, which served as a wayside inn during the development of Pennsylvania's oil industry years ago, was destroyed by fire late yesterday.

The two-story, frame structure used to be the stopping place of oil men when the fuel was hauled from Titusville to Corry for processing and refining.

It was owned by Frank Firth, and occupied by his family. The house was situated near Britton Run, about two and a half miles south of here. Spartanburg firemen fought the flames, but were handicapped by lack of water.

Friends, was not impressed. To him it was an old story. He refused to talk, deputy Sheriffs K. Pearl and Mrs. Leota Masteller reported.

Last year, when Sonny was 14, he eloped with Mrs. Elaine Ludlum Monfredi, 22, another mother of two children. They were married at Yuma, Ariz. At the request of Sonny's mother police interrupted the couple as they honeymooned in Denver. The marriage was annulled.

Last Wednesday, Mrs. Deveny told the deputies, she eloped from Long Beach with Sonny, whom she had known two and a half weeks. They rode a bus to Oroville. Sonny, recently a merchant seaman, was to have started to work today at a lumber mill.

The romance was interrupted, police said, at the request of Mrs. Deveny's father, Michael Praster, who has been caring for the two children, Dennis, 4, and Ricky, three months.

BUDGET SLASH AND TAX HIKE FACING JAPAN

Postwar Currency Council Warned by Newspaper Radical Steps Necessary For Stabilization

ARMIES CONSOLIDATED

By RUSSELL BRINES

Tokyo, Nov. 13.—(AP)—War crushed Japan must cut her peace-time budget in half and multiply her taxes by five in order to control inflation, the semi-official Postwar Currency Council reported today to the finance ministry. The newspaper Yomiuri Hochi, reporting the sharp warning, said that the council had been charged with preparation of a five-year program to stabilize currency—already ballooned by a mushrooming black market. The council recommended a 1946-47 budget of not more than 15,000,000,000 yen. Non-military items of the present 111,434,000,000 yen budget are twice the proposed 1946-47 total. Current tax revenues of 14,000,000,000 yen should be boosted to 70,000,000,000, the council was quoted as urging.

Indicating smoothness of his occupation program despite signs of restlessness among the Japanese, General MacArthur today announced consolidation of his two armies in Japan into one force under Lt. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger.

The Sixth Army, presently under command of Gen. Walter P. Krueger with headquarters at Kyoto, will be deactivated January 26 and its personnel not eligible to return home will be transferred to Eichelberger's Eighth Army command.

January 26 is the birthday of both MacArthur and Krueger and is the third anniversary of the Sixth Army's formation.

Allied headquarters directed the Japanese government to say by December 15 what it is doing to provide the empire's 70,000,000 people with enough to eat. It further ordered by Dec. 31 a long range program for Japanese agriculture, including a report on such questions as farm indebtedness, taxes, credit and production.

Meanwhile Emperor Hirohito, whom Japanese Communists said yesterday should be named Japan's No. 1 war criminal, read a report on the end of the war to his ancestors at Ise Shrine. He prayed that "the unprecedented crisis facing the nation would be conquered and the task of constructing a peaceful nation accomplished."

The emperor is scheduled to visit tomorrow morning the Uneshi mausoleum where remains of the Emperor Jimmu—Japan's first ruler—supposedly are interred, and tomorrow afternoon the Momoyama mausoleum where Emperor Kruigi, who commanded the spearhead of MacArthur's advance through the southwest Pacific, may retire.

By March, headquarters said, the only combat divisions left in Japan would be the 11th Airborne and 24th and 25th Infantry and the first cavalry. With headquarters special personnel and air force units, they would bring the entire spring occupation forces for Korea and Japan to about 200,000.

Problems Of Palestine To Be Studied

Washington, Nov. 13.—(AP)—President Truman announced today the United States has agreed to the establishment of a joint Anglo-American committee to examine the whole Palestine problem.

The British suggested the creation of the committee after Mr. Truman had proposed admission of an additional 100,000 Jews to Palestine. Mr. Truman previously has disclosed that Prime Minister Attlee felt that figure was too high.

In London, Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin also told commons of this nation's agreement to form the committee but expressed doubt that Palestine could make more than a contribution to solving problem of Jewish migration from war-ravaged Europe.

London, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin announced today that the United States had accepted an invitation to cooperate with Britain in setting up a joint Anglo-American inquiry to examine the question of European Jewry and make a further review of the Palestine problem in the light of this examination.

Bevin told commons that there recently had been demands made on the British government for "large scale immigration" of Jews into Palestine from war-ravaged Europe.

BOND ISSUE FOR LIVING MEMORIAL

(An Editorial)

The Warren Times-Mirror definitely favors the building of a Memorial Athletic Field as a gesture to the men and women who served in World War II.

The Times-Mirror favors a complete Athletic Park, set-up with stadium for baseball and football, series of soft ball diamonds, tennis courts, shuffleboard installations, bathing pool, along with an auditorium capable of seating at least 4,000 persons with a commodious stage and dressing rooms for theatrical productions, church pageants, automobile shows, conventions, etc., as well as facilities for basketball, handball, boxing exhibitions, game rooms, bathing facilities for athletic teams, dancing, public forums and lectures.

According to the estimates made by City Engineer Calvin Barwis, such a complete installation would cost in the neighborhood of $400,000. This figure is not exorbitant when it is figured that all ages and classes would find recreation at the Memorial Field. Every sort of athletic endeavor would be afforded space and every age, from small fry to adults, would find something there to appeal to them.

The Times-Mirror, however, does not subscribe to the popular drive for funds idea but feels that inasmuch as every person in the county would be benefited and would find the field a "center" of various endeavors that all should have an opportunity to help in the financing of the project.

Feeling that this is the fair American way to build and maintain the field, the Times-Mirror would suggest that a special bond issue of $400,000 be made for the proper construction and equipping of the Memorial.

From all indications there will have to be a bond issue for the construction of a new sewage disposal plant and other post-war construction projects, and there is seemingly no reason why all could not be combined in one bond issue and carried out in an orderly manner. The extra taxation would be spread to all classes and for the non-property owner a per capita tax similar to that levied for schools could be added to the personal taxes. This would let all who enjoy athletics of various kinds to not only enjoy the fun provided but also to help pay a share in the costs.

A bond issue of $600,000 or $700,000 could be voted on at a special election at which the taxpayers could register their desire for such a field and also for other needed improvements in the city. This could be held either this winter or at the spring primaries, if no special election be thought advisable, and the actual work on the field could be under way next summer.

Nation's Labor Front Quite In Wake of Armistice Day

By the Associated Press

Quiet prevailed along the nation's labor front today in the wake of the Armistice Day holiday, but threats of strikes in major industries remained in the background.

The number of workers idle across the country because of work stoppages remained at around 272,000, only a slight change within the past week.

Efforts to settle the country's largest single strike, involving some 60,000 AFL lumber workers in the Pacific northwest, have stalled, said a union spokesman in Portland, Ore.

Likewise, there were no indications that the strike of AFL-CIO machinists in the San Francisco bay area for 30 per cent wage increases was nearing an end. Now in its third week, the walkout of about 12,000 machinists has affected some 60,000 workers in scores of industries.

The CIO-United Automobile Workers has delegated to a six-man committee authority to call a strike against the motor industry's "big three" at any time it sees fit.

Employees of General Motors, Chrysler and Ford have voted in favor of a work stoppage to gain their demands for a 30 cent wage rate boost. General Motors scheduled to resume wage negotiations with the union Thursday.

It was not known whether the United States Steel Corporation will accept Secretary of Labor Schwelbacher's second invitation to resume wage negotiations tomorrow with the CIO United Steelworkers.

Washington, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Bitterly denouncing "government by pressure," Price Administrator Chester Bowles told congress today he is rejecting demands of automobile dealers for higher retail prices on new cars.

He said government by lobby pressure "is an ominous sign of our times."

Appearing before the house small business committee, the OPA chief estimated members of congress have received more than 5,000 telegrams protesting OPA's auto price plans.

Bowles told the committee, in the presence of hundreds of auto dealers gathered in the house caucus room, that under the OPA price schedules for new automobiles the dealer "are likely to have their best year in 1946."

He said OPA would announce the prices Thursday.

Employees Urged to Boost Bond Buying
All employees subscribing to Victory Bonds under plant quotas as well as all others, are urged by E. V. Lesser, in charge of the Pay Roll Savings Division, to boost their bond buying. Considering that the Victory Loan drive has been under way for two weeks, the percentage of quota figures are alarmingly low. The importance of the Victory Loan cannot be over-emphasized. Unless the asked-for quotas are reached, reconversion and rehabilitation will be set back indefinitely. This will affect all of us for years to come and make meaningless and futile the peace won at such great cost and sacrifice.

Help 14 Days Too Late For Accident Victim

Gold Beach, Ore., Nov. 13.—Help came one day too late for 78-year-old Earl Stilson, who lay pinned beneath his overturned automobile for 14 days before he died.

The chronicle of his agony, scrawled with a shaking hand on bits of paper, was found with the body by state highway workmen. The last entry, dated the night before, said: "I ought to be dead" and added that he was "ready to go into his rest if it is His will."

Search parties had been hunting for the aged man for days but had stopped a mile away from the place where his car had plunged over a high cliff Oct. 25.

Boy Witness In Trial Of Jap General

Manila, P. I., Nov. 13.—(AP)—The scene of prosecution witnesses reciting details of Japanese brutality in the Philippine islands under command of Lt. Gen. Yamashita, was interrupted briefly today as a 14-year-old defense witness took the stand.

Bislimino Romero, grandson of Filipino General Artemio Ricarte who allegedly collaborated with the Japanese, told the court that he had never been present when Ricarte and Yamashita, now on trial for his life, had been together.

Educated in Japan, he testified in Japanese. Previously, Jose Galang, a prosecution witness had told of occasions when young Romero had been present as an interpreter at meetings of Ricarte and Yamashita.

Meanwhile, it was learned that the Philippine supreme court has asked Lt. Gen. Wilhelm Styer, commander of United States Army forces in the western Pacific, to show cause why a writ of habeas corpus should not be issued as requested by Yamashita's defense counsel in a move to have the war crimes case quashed.

Testimony on conditions of the Los Banos prison camp concluded as two witnesses told of the extremely meager sanitary facilities there and said that food was so scarce that pigs which normally lived on kitchen scraps starved to death.

A parade of witnesses also began testimony concerning the alleged killing of more than 7,000 civilians in Calamba, Laguna province, early in February.

Here, it was recounted, Japanese soldiers entered civilian residences and took truck loads of men, women and children away to bayonet and burn.

Hearings On Training Bill Will Resume

Washington, Nov. 13.—(AP)—The house military committee today rejected by a 15 to 12 vote a move to defer consideration of universal military training legislation until next year.

It agreed to resume hearings on Thursday on the plan requested October 22 by President Truman. The witness that day will be General of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The vote occurred on a motion by Rep. Short (R-Mo) to defer further hearings until January.

Only one witness, Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson, has been heard this far.

The committee voted in closed session. Chairman May (D-Ky) announced the result, but declined to say how the individual members stood.

The showdown was forced by a Republican motion to delay further consideration until next year (Turn to Page Nine)

"NO REASON" FOR ECONOMIC RIVALRY BETWEEN U. S. AND BRITAIN MINISTER DECLARES

British Leader in 3,000-Word Address Mentions Only Briefly Prime Purpose of His Visit to This Country—Atomic Bomb Discussion

ANTICIPATES ERA OF INCREASING COOPERATION

Washington, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Prime Minister Clement Attlee told congress today that the foundations of peace must be "world prosperity and good neighborliness." There is "no reason," he said, for economic rivalry between Great Britain and the United States.

Speaking in the house of representatives to senators and congressmen who must approve any U. S. financial aid for Britain, Attlee frankly sought to remove what he called "some apprehensions" about his Labor party's program.

In his 3,000-word address, the British leader mentioned only briefly the prime purpose of his visit to this country—to discuss with President Truman the eventual disposition of the secrets of atomic bomb construction. He gave no indication of the course which the conferences are taking.

Attlee likened his country to a man in Britain returning from the war to find "his home blitzed and his business ruined."

"We went all out to win the war and now have to start afresh," he said. "Like him, we are facing the future with courage and a determination to win together."

Attlee said he looked forward to "an era of increasing cooperation and friendship" between the U. S. and Britain. That friendship, he said, should not be "exclusive," but rather "a contribution to the knitting together with all peoples through the United Nations organization in the bonds of peace."

Although Attlee is known to have conferred with Lord Keynes on the progress of negotiations for a United States loan to Britain, he made no direct reference in his address to British requests for financial aid.

The prime minister said he believed "some people over here" imagined that the British Labor Party was "out to destroy freedom, freedom of the individual, freedom of speech, freedom of religion and freedom of the press."

"They are wrong," he asserted, adding that the Labor party was "in the tradition" of all British freedom-loving movements and "in line" with "those who fought for the Magna Charta, and habeas corpus, with the pilgrim fathers and with the signatories of the Declaration of Independence."

In following their different economic courses, Attlee said, it is important that the U. S. and Britain "should understand each other and other nations whose institutions differ from our own."

"I hope to see a world as orderly as a well-run town, with citizens diverse in character but cooperating for the common good," he said.

Attlee said the world's greatest task today is to "bring home to all peoples before it is too late that our civilization can only survive by the acceptance and practice in international relations and in our national life of the christian (Turn to Page Nine)

DeGaulle Elected Interim President

Paris, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Gen. De Gaulle, France's wartime military leader, was elected interim president of the French government by the constituent assembly today to direct the creation of the fourth republic.

The vote was 555 ballots for de Gaulle, none against and one abstention.

A week of bickering has left the three leading parties, the Communists, Socialists and Christian M.R.P. parties, unchanged in their stand on a national program. All three say they agree on a broad program of leftist reforms. The Communists assert that the M. R. P. program is not sufficiently specific.

One of the first tasks for de Gaulle will be to present his own program to the assembly.

Woman Gives Birth To Son At Scene of Crossing Crash

Punkutawney, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Thrown from an automobile which was smashed by a speeding double header freight train, a 39-year-old woman gave birth to a son on a railroad embankment here while her 21-year-old daughter burned to death in the flaming wreckage yesterday.

The baby, uninjured, was pronounced in fair condition at Adair hospital today. The condition of the mother, Mrs. Frank Martz, who suffered shock, a broken right arm and two broken legs, was serious.

Mrs. Martz, wife of a prominent Jefferson county dairy farmer, was not told of the agonizing death of her oldest daughter, Mary. Because of her own suffering Mrs. Martz did not realize at the tragedy scene the fate of her daughter.

Her husband was rushing her to the hospital at 2:30 a. m. because the birth was imminent. The collision occurred at the Pro-T street crossing—within a block of the hospital.

Martz, as well as his wife, was thrown from the crushed car but he received only minor injuries. The daughters trapped in the wreckage, was carried with it 600 feet along the track by the impact of the freight.

Plane Hunts Mail Dropped From Airplane

The fact that an airplane was observed making repeated low level flights in wide circles just east of Corry, caused a large number of inquiries over Sunday. It was learned this morning that the plane was a ship from Lawrence Airport which had been engaged to make an aerial hunt in an effort to locate a pouch of mail probably carrying airmail from Warren which was dropped from one of the All-America mail planes.

The ship engaged in the hunt Saturday was piloted by Dr. Harry Rhodes who had Russell Ream, in charge of the local pick-up station with him as an observer. The two made extensive flights over the area east of Corry and particularly of the district northeast of the Howard Company plant where the pilot of the mail plane had reported by radio to Mr. Ream that he had seen the pouch drop.

The pouch was lost on one of the regular flights on Thursday and was believed by the pilots to have landed near a small pond. Since that time, Mr. Ream has covered much of the territory on foot but neither that search or the aerial check-up on Saturday has resulted in the finding of the lost mail container. Hunters and others are urged to keep a look-out for the pouch and are asked to report promptly to the Corry Post Office or to Mr. Ream if it is located.

ALGOT OHLSON

Services in memory of Algot Ohlson were held at Borden's Funeral Home at Sheffield Sunday afternoon at three o'clock, with Pastor Nore Gustafson, of St. Paul's Lutheran church, officiating. Interment was made in the family plot in Sheffield cemetery, with the following as active bearers: E. R. Jones, Harry Chibberg, H. B. Bowersox, Warren Schuler, Ray Fuels and Nick Andersen, all employees of Smith-Horton Company. Honorary bearers were George W. Peterson, Charles Norlin and Gilbert Peterson, Sheffield; Gail Jones, C. Amacher and R. A. Newell, Warren.

Attending the services from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cromwell and daughters, Joyce and Helen, Mrs. Carl Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Swanson, Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Carlson, Mrs. Hilda Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Bushy, Miss Alice Clemens, Mrs. E. B. Smith, Mrs. A. W. Cramer, Miss Inez Brownell, Warren; John Larson, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hendrickson, Brookston.

HENRY PETER LORENZ

Funeral services in memory of Henry Peter Lorenz, 606 Fourth avenue, were held at 10 a. m. Monday at St. Joseph's church, Father Alfred Bauer officiating for the requiem high mass. Interment was made in St. Joseph's cemetery with the following bearers: Richard Harrison, Anthony Pont, Paul McCoy, James Madden, Leo Weidert and Edward Harrington.

Attending from away were Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Dieteman, Mrs. Frances Kronenwetter, St. Mary's; Mr. and Mrs. Willard Lorenz and daughter, of Titusville; Mrs. James Wright, of St. Louis; Mrs. James Wright, Jr., Grand Valley.

JOHN D. YOUNG

Word has been received here that John D. Young, formerly of North Wales, died Wednesday morning, November 7, at his home 2844 West Genesee street, Lapeer, Mich., from a complication of diseases. He was born at Tiona, on April 4, 1883, went to Flint, Mich., in 1910 and was employed at the Buick factory. On October 24, 1922, he was married to Mrs. Bertha Butler and they moved to Lapeer in 1925. He operated a service station on Saginaw street, in Lapeer, for several years and was employed at the Pontiac State Hospital and Lapeer State Home until he retired a year ago because of ill health. He was a member of Flint P. and A. M. No. 23.

Surviving are his wife and one sister, Mrs. Arthur Runciter, Warren; two stepchildren, Ralph Burton, Lake Fenton, and Mrs. Frances Knickerbocker, of Mt. Morris; also several nieces and nephews. Services in his memory were held on Friday from the Baird Funeral Home, the Rev. Frank S. Henningson officiating and interment in Mt. Hope cemetery.

ANTONIO FUMANI

Antonio Fuman, aged 53 years, of Youngsville, died at Warren General Hospital at noon on Monday. Besides his wife, he leaves two daughters, Mary and Anna, of Youngsville; also a number of relatives in Italy.

Funeral services will be held at ten o'clock Thursday morning at St. Luke's church in Irvine, conducted by Father Edward Jacobs, and followed by interment in St. Joseph's cemetery here. Friends may call at the family home on Wednesday.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our friends and neighbors for their expression of sympathy, kindness and thoughtfulness at the time of our recent bereavement.

Mrs. Ludwig Schwanke and Family.

At the end of World War II, American refineries were making more than 500,000 barrels of aviation gasoline a day, or about 85 per cent of the world's production.

Court Takes Children From Mother

Thomas Coupling Co. Display Is Attracting Much Interest

The Pennsylvania Electric Company is now showing in its display windows on Liberty Street the exhibit of the Thomas Flexible Coupling Company which was used during last week's sales conference of their representatives from all parts of the United States.

This exhibit comprises four panels of recent photographs showing Thomas Flexible Couplings which the company makes for Industrial, Marine, Locomotive, Mobile Unit, Gun Mount and Machinery applications. Also shown is a demonstrating stand which illustrates on a small scale the use of three styles of Thomas couplings on rotating machinery. The Thomas flexible couplings are used between such machines as diesel engines and compressors, marine engines and propellers, diesel locomotive engines and main generators, etc., to permit the usual misalignments that are encountered in commercial work due to wear in bearings, temperature changes, settlement of foundations, warping of the supports in locomotives or ships so that the shaft strains of one machine are not transmitted to the other. For example the crankshaft of an engine is freed of any external strains by placing a Thomas coupling between the connected machines.

A chart exhibited along with the display shows that the contribution of the Thomas Coupling Company toward the war effort consisted of the manufacture of 70,000 couplings for gun mounts, 30,000 couplings for generating sets used in auxiliary lighting, welding, etc.; 25,000 couplings used in radar equipment; 10,000 couplings for compressors, pumps, and turbines; 5,000 couplings for ship propellers; 3,000 for Diesel locomotives; and an undisclosed quantity for the Manhattan Project. Actual couplings of many types are on display showing the high grade of workmanship turned out by this shop.

This exhibit promises to be of great instructional value to the people of Warren and vicinity since most of them have not previously been aware of the wide application of this ingenious device. Discs are shown from the smallest size coupling (used in 1/2 inch shafts) to the large ones used on submarine main drives. Still larger ones are made up to 60 inch diameter but were too bulky to include in this display.

The Thomas Coupling is an all metal coupling which has a bright future in industrial applications of Power Transmission machinery as well as diesel locomotives, tractors and marine work.

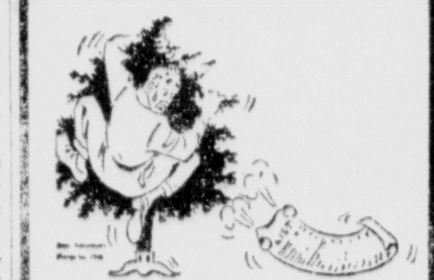

Every citizen should avail himself of the opportunity to inspect this exhibit which already has excited many words of praise and surprise from those who have looked it over.

Parents' Night Is Planned At High School

Parents' Night, the official observance of American Education Week, will be held in Warren High School tomorrow evening, and members of the faculty extend a cordial invitation to all parents to be in attendance.

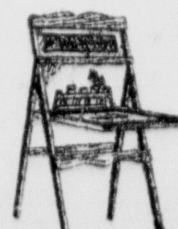

Teachers will be in their respective rooms from seven until eight o'clock, so that parents may greet them and talk over their children's work.

At eight o'clock a program will be presented in the auditorium, with the five winners of the B'Nai B'rith essay contest presenting their papers. These students are Wayne Klenck, Richard Harris, Elizabeth Bathurst, Eleanor Nelson and Joyce Dorrance. In addition, the music department will present several selections, Neil Swanson as cornetist, and Nancy Maneval as vocalist, with Jean Smith as accompanist.

Store Hours In Jamestown Are Revamped

Jamestown, Nov. 13—Jamestown retail merchants after participating in a two-way telephone discussion with Chairman Edward Corsi of the State Minimum Wage Board in Albany, in which retailers in 15 cities asked questions Saturday, decided voluntarily to adopt the new $21 minimum wage scale for store workers beginning yesterday.

Following the novel telephone hook-up, heard by some 2,000 merchants, the executive committee of the local merchants' association, a division of the chamber of commerce, set up new opening and closing hours for local stores, reducing operations to a 40-hour-per-week basis. The new store hours were confirmed at another meeting of the retailers Saturday morning.

Beginning Monday, retail stores here opened at 10 a. m. and closed at 5:30 p. m., with the following exceptions:

On Fridays the stores will not open until noon and will close at 9 p. m.

On Saturdays, they will open at 10 a. m. and close at 5 p. m.

Allowing for one-hour luncheon periods, the actual working time will total 40 hours per week.

TOWNSEND MEETING
Members of Townsend Club No. 2 will hold their regular meeting at 8 p. m. Wednesday in the clubrooms at 223 Pennsylvania avenue, west, at which time delegates to the state convention will present their report. A large attendance is desired.

TURKEY PARTY
The Kalbfus Rod and Gun Club is advertising a "turkey party" to be held at the spacious club house near Clearmont Thursday night, to which the public is cordially invited. The club will be open at seven p. m. for the evening and an enjoyable time is assured all who attend.

FIFTH WARD VOTE
In response to many inquiries received relative to the vote for Town Council in the Fifth Ward the following figures have been made available following the official count, minus the soldier vote which will not be compiled until November 16: H. S. Hampson, Democratic ticket 169; S. Rasmussen, Republican 452.

ALMOST GOT RINGNECK
Officer Jerry Parks almost got a ringneck pheasant yesterday. While driving just outside of Erie one of the fine birds attempted to cross the highway in front of his car. When almost in front of the car the bird spread its wings and got away. Officer Parks regretted having missed the big fellow but says "I did not have my hunting license with me so slowed down, but I could have got him all right."

MAY COMPLETE BUILDING
Difficulty in the securing of material for the erection of the structure which will house a bunk room and machine shop on the site of the old Pennsylvania railroad round house has slowed down the work. However it is hoped to complete this building during the next few weeks but another contemplated structure will not be started until next spring.

NEW OLDS HERE
The new 1946 Oldsmobile has arrived in Warren and is on display at the Carlson Agency on Pennsylvania avenue, east. The new machine is attracting much attention from prospective car buyers, as it is a model that embodies a number of new features and conveniences for the automobile owner. The Carlson Agency as yet has no price announcement from the company and, like other dealers, is booking orders awaiting the fixing of ceilings by the government.

TIBBETS HOLD HOPE
Park Superintendent Tibbets is hopeful that the aphids which assailed scores of trees in Warren during the past few months will not appear next spring. Mr. Tibbets holds to the view that the aphids which damaged shade trees in the city can only be eradicated by spraying after they begin work on the trees. He stated this morning that the park department had no sprays or equipment for the work but that if the aphids came back next summer such equipment would undoubtedly have to be secured. The aphids on the trees work similarly to those which damage rose buds and only continued spraying over a period of weeks can kill them. He further stated that never had he seen so many fine trees damaged by the pests.

Kathryn Ekey Weds Kane Man On Sat.
Mr. and Mrs. Emil Ekey, St. Clair street, announce the marriage of their daughter, Kathryn, to Philip Sundell, of Kane. The ceremony, performed by the Rev. Nore Gustafson, pastor of the St. Paul's Lutheran church, was solemnized at nine o'clock Saturday, November 10.

Agnes Ekey, sister of the bride, and Nobel Sundell, attended the couple.

The bride looked lovely in a solid blue suit with blue accessories and orchid corsage. Miss Ekey wore a black suit with white accessories and a yellow corsage. Immediately following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served for the bridal party and relatives. After a wedding trip to Buffalo, they will be at home to their friends on Biddle street, Kane.

Mr. Sundell was just recently discharged from the armed services.

Clarendon Woman, Victim Of Auto Crash, Dies At Erie

Mrs. Nellie Marfink, of Sheffield, who was struck by an automobile while on her way to church at North East Sunday passed away this morning in St. Vincent's Hospital, in Erie, where she was taken following the accident. Miss Marfink suffered serious internal injuries, a fractured right leg and some severe lacerations and bruises.

When taken to the hospital her condition was pronounced as critical and she was given all possible treatment to relieve her suffering. She was struck by an automobile driven by Fred Berry, of Canton, Ohio, at East and Main streets about 7:45 Sunday morning while on her way to church.

Mrs. Marfink was born at Sugar Grove and was 51 years of age. She was a resident of Sheffield but had been in North East for some time. She is survived by three brothers, Andrew, of Saybrook, Lyle and William, at home and one sister, Mae, also at home. One niece and one nephew also survive.

The body will be taken to Sheffield for services and interment but as yet no funeral arrangements have been made, due to the fact that a coroner's inquest is being held and the body has not been permitted to be moved from Erie county as yet.

Erie, Nov. 13—(AP)—Miss Nellie Marfink, 51, who was struck by an automobile Sunday night while walking to church, died today in St. Vincent's hospital. Her death marked the first traffic fatality in 18 years in North East, where the accident occurred. Police Chief H. L. Hesling, of Northeast, who identified the driver of the car as Fred Berry of Canton, O., said the circumstances of the accident were being investigated. Berry was not held. Coroner Warren W. Wood attributed Miss Marfink's death to internal injuries.

Production Credit Loaning
Money To War Veterans

Returning veterans and service men are making increasing use of cooperative, farmer-controlled organizations to obtain credit for farm production purposes, according to a statement made by I. W. Duggan, Governor of the Farm Credit Administration and released by William Bishop, Secretary of the Meadville Production Credit Association.

"To date, in the United States, 3,480 veterans and service men have borrowed from production credit associations to purchase livestock, and equipment necessary to carry on their farming operations", said Duggan. "And we expect the number to increase materially by next spring when more of them will be returning to agriculture."

The production credit associations are farmer-controlled and co-operative and feature loans at an interest rate of 4 1/2%. Loans to purchase capital goods such as livestock or equipment can be repaid over a 3 to 4 year period from farm income.

In addition, the production credit association provide loans for feed, seed, fertilizer and other production needs to be paid during a 12 months period. These loans can be obtained on a "Budget" basis, whereby the farmer makes application at the beginning of the season for the money he needs and draws it only as he needs it, paying interest for only the actual time which it is used.

In order to qualify for a loan from the production credit association, veterans must meet reasonable credit requirements such as having an adequate farm available and a reasonable amount of stock, equipment and experience to be able to carry on a self-sufficient farming program.

Veterans who wish to buy a farm may secure assistance through the aid of a Land Bank loan. The Federal Land Banks have already made more than 700 loans to veterans totalling $1,800,000.

MUCH DAMAGE DONE

Bear Lake residents are still protesting against the damage which was done in that town the night of Halloween. They declare that the trouble was caused by youths from outside the village who tipped over small buildings, broke locks from doors of others, piled crates and other material in the center of the highway and inflicted heavy damage on some properties. The matter was the subject of a sermon in the Bear Lake church last Sunday.

LITTLE PROGRESS MADE

Construction of new homes is still in the blueprint stage because of Federal government inaction in declaring a policy on construction price ceilings, says the State Board of Housing. Demanding such a "policy at once," Chairman Ritchie Lawrie, Jr., said that "until it is decided in Washington whether or not the price ceilings are to be established on new construction, there is little hope of progress toward relieving the acute housing shortage which exists today."

STARTS NEW SYSTEM

A new system of billing and collection has been inaugurated in Oil City by the Pennsylvania Electric Company but Corry offices of the utility have had no information that the plan will be placed in effect here. A representative of the company will call each month at the homes with the bills and the payments may be made directly to him in person or mailed as previously. In rural areas near that city, the representative will call at the properties of consumers, read the meter and make out the bill, also accepting the payment on the one visit.

CAN ENLIST IN NAVY

A naval aviation cadet selection board has been established at Pittsburgh to enlist 17-18 and 19-year old boys in this area who are interested in the naval aviation preparatory program. It is expected that enlistees will be ordered to college on or about March 1, 1946. Applicants must have been graduated from high school before February, 1946, or be in attendance at an accredited college or university. It is desirable that candidates have had at least two years of high school mathematics and one year of high school physics.

CLARENDON

The American Legion Home at Sheffield was the scene of a very pleasant Halloween party enjoyed by the Clarendon Garden Club members at their annual Halloween Garden Club Party. Dave Johnson and Edward Moore acted as hosts, games were played and prizes were won by Mrs. Hans Walchli, Gilbert Nelson, Luther Lindahl, Mary Graham and Mr. Harry Schmidt, following the entertainment all enjoyed a delicious lunch, after which Dave Johnson presented Mr. Schmidt with a gift on behalf of the club.

Last Friday relatives, along with the "Red and White" gang, met at the home of Dale Meddock for a surprise Birthday party on him, he really was surprised and the evening was spent in playing various games, after which a delicious birthday lunch was served, the main part of which was some very beautifully decorated cakes.

CHRISTMAS FUNDS

Christmas Club owners in mutual savings banks within the next weeks will receive a total of $111,385,196, representing the accumulations of 1,608,520 depositors, according to the National Association of Mutual Savings Banks. This figure is $25 millions more than the accumulations of 1944 and demonstrates the national instinct for thrift. The average distribution will be $69.25 per account, or $5.35 more this year than in 1944.

New York ranked first in its mutual savings bank Christmas Clubs with deposits of $45,397,681 and depositors numbering 626,976, an average of $72.41 per account. Massachusetts was second with $25,969,037 deposits and 422,476 depositors, an average of $61.47. Connecticut followed with $13,862,722 deposits and 194,724 depositors, an average of $71.19.

It is encouraging to note that despite splendid support of the war loan drives, higher living costs, and the steady growth in savings deposits of all kinds, so many people have found it possible to set aside additional funds week after week for holiday purchases and other worth-while uses," says Isaac W. Roberts, president of the National Association and president of The Philadelphia Saving Fund Society. "However, may I stress that this year, as never before, the opportunity to invest in national welfare through the purchase of Victory Loan securities will assist in strengthening our economy. The early return of war veterans, the cost of contract settlements, mustering-out pay, hospitalization, care and rehabilitation,—require huge expenditures on the part of our Federal Government which must be met promptly, and I can think of no more appropriate gift than Victory Bonds nor any one more certain to be appreciated now and in the years to come. In this way can we show our sense of obligation to those who have brought about the victory."

READ AND BELIEVE IN SIGNS

Signs along the highway are to be read.

Get the habit of looking for signs. This habit will enable you to avoid danger. Persons driving over the same road week after week seems to ignore signs on their particular stretch of highway.

This creates an indifference toward signs in general. This indifference has a bad effect on the mental attitude of the driver. He allows himself to think of something else, and he finds himself up against a stop sign at once.

One situation is recalled. The driver was hurrying along a country road. Several secondary roads crossed this main highway. A main intersecting road was a few miles ahead. In approaching the intersection the driver believed it was still a mile away, and that the one ahead was a minor intersection. Stepping on the brakes suddenly, the car slipped and weaved about, and fortunately there were no other cars on the road. That experience taught the driver a lesson.

Read signs at all times, and abide by them.

WHO WON?

Secretary of State Byrnes has made public a letter from the Italian foreign minister in which the latter more or less told Mr. Byrnes what Italy would accept in the way of settling up for a war which Italy helped to make long and bloody.

Italy, the minister said in effect, is willing to give Yugoslavia, a couple of cities and turn over the Dodecanese Islands to Greece. But Italy must retain the colony of Eritrea and her northern boundary at the Brenner Pass. And Italy doesn't want any interference in settling her frontier differences with France.

Well known Warren county men, whose names had long been prominent in affairs of the two major political parties, were called by the Grim Reaper over the weekend, in the deaths of Mac Olney, former Democratic commissioner, and R. D. McKelvey, Republican committeeman in Spring Creek. Both leave hosts of friends to whom they had endeared themselves in their long and active careers.

Officers of the local posts of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars are deserving of a word of praise for their efforts in promoting a most appropriate Armistice Day observance which attracted a large crowd to the Library Theatre Monday morning at eleven o'clock.

Some More of the Same, Garcon!

Washington Daybook

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — When Brien McMahon was running for senator in Connecticut, he was discussing with a reporter why his name was not better known in his native state, although he had made an outstanding record as assistant attorney general in Washington.

"I've never been very good at personal publicity," McMahon said. "Some people just have it and some don't; I'm one of those who don't."

As chairman of the Senate's brand new committee on the control of atomic energy, the 42-year-old freshman Democratic senator would need any flair for personal publicity. He'll get it in spite of himself. He has already started. By being in the Senate less than a year and heading what everyone agrees is one of the most important committees ever set up in the upper chamber, he has broken a long cherished Senate tradition: that to the seniors go the plums.

SEN. McMAHON was born in Norwalk, Conn., and educated there until he went off to Fordham and Yale to become a lawyer. His father, a building contractor, was in politics up to his Irish ears and for a long time was known locally as "watch-dog of the city treasury."

So young Brien came by his politics naturally and early. Even at Fordham, he was nicknamed "Senator" because he had said someday he would like to be one. However, all his jobs were appointive until he struck out with both fists failing in the 1944 campaign against isolationist but able and popular Sen. John A. Danaher. McMahon confidently predicted he would win by 35,000 votes; he beat his own prediction by 5,000.

What he had done before that—

and it hadn't won him much personal publicity in his home state—was to become, at 31, the youngest man ever appointed assistant U. S. attorney general, and to hang up an enviable record in that job. Out in Chicago, he prosecuted some chums of a certain notorious "Baby Face" Nelson.

He went down into "Bloody Harlan" county, Kentucky, to prosecute coal operators and county officials for allegedly depriving the coal miners of their rights. He was maligned, threatened, even shot at, and the case was declared a mistrial, but his threat to come back and try it all over again put an end to a bloody labor war.

SEN. McMAHON is a pleasant, friendly, but serious-minded person. He is a vigorous liberal in international affairs and this, coupled with his great capacity for hard work, is what has carried him so far in so short a time in the Senate. That, and undoubtedly a little private respect on the part of his colleagues for any man who could knock John Danaher down in a political race.

Aside from his professional activities, Sen. McMahon does little to attract the "personal publicity" that some members of Congress go in for. He has an attractive young wife and three-year-old daughter. He attends about as many of the Washington social functions as he should and no more. About his only hobby is golf, which he shoots in the eighties. About his closest friends are the two partners of his former law firm, Walter E. Gallagher and Richard J. Connor.

Concerning his new appointment as chairman of the Senate atomic energy control committee, he is deadly serious. To congratulations, his most frequent comment was: "It is a grave responsibility."

Stamp News

FOR the first time in the 38-year history of Christmas seals, the name of the artist to appear on this year's seal, to be sold, beginning Nov. 19, by the 2,500 affiliates of the National Tuberculosis Association. Collection of these seals has long been popular among philatelists.

Park Phipps, head of the department of advertising and printing design at the Art Institute of Chicago, designed the 1945 seal and his last name appears in minute blue letters in the lower right-hand corner of the seal. The initials of the artist, Ernest Hamlin Baker, appeared on the 1919 seal. The four companies printing the seals have again placed identifying marks on seal 56, the sixth from the left in the sixth horizontal row. The Eureka Specialty Printing Co. used an "E," the Strobridge Lithographing Co., an "S," Edwards and Deutsch Lithographic Co., a "D" and the United States Printing and Lithograph Co., a "U."

A PORTRAIT of Alfred E. Smith will appear on the 3-cent stamp the Post Office Department will issue Nov. 26 in honor of the former governor of New York and 1928 Democratic candidate for President. The stamp will be of the ordinary size and the purple, usually reserved for 3-cent stamps. Illustrated here, the stamp will bear the dates "1873" and "1944" marking Smith's span of life. The stamp will be placed on sale at New York and collectors may send a maximum of 10

covers, together with remittance for the stamps to be affixed, to the Postmaster, New York, N. Y.

CUBA's two commemorative stamps, marking the 150th anniversary in 1943 of its Economic Society of Friends of the Country, have at last been issued.

The Society was founded in 1793 to help the country's education, agriculture, commerce and general welfare and still is active. A 1-centavo green picture of the seal of the Society. Portraits of the two founders, Gen. Luis de las Casas, Spanish governor of Cuba, and Bishop Luis Maria Penalver, appear on the 2-c scarlet.

STAMP notes in brief: Two additional values in Belgium's liberation set, described here recently, have been received, J. and H. Stolor of New York report. They are a 3.50 plus 3.50 franc blue of the civilian rifleman design and a large 5-fr plus 40-fr tan depicting a group of four men, including one with broken chains on his wrists and another with a rifle against a background of the rays of the sun.

The Portuguese Embassy furnishes the accompanying illustration of the Magellan stamp of Portugal's new eight-stamp "Navigators" issue. From Austria comes a 1-schilling plus 10-groschen green semi-postal inscribed "Republik Oesterreich" and picturing a man watching the dawn from a mountain-top.

Wounded War Veteran Protests Eviction

Their landlord wanted the rooms they occupied, so out upon the sidewalk went the family of former Army Cpl. Frank Richardson of Yonkers, N. Y., with all their belongings. Wearer of the Purple Heart and three combat stars, the veteran protests the eviction, as shown above. Mrs. Richardson holds their son, Frank.

Brotherhood Has Talk By Rev. Rogers

St. Paul's Brotherhood held its November meeting in the downstairs auditorium of the church, Rev. Edward K. Rogers speaking on "Rebuilding the Church", one of the most challenging talks the group has ever heard. The following report of the meeting and talk has been prepared for the Times-Mirror.

By his years of training and for his experiences in the ministry previous to becoming an army chaplain, Rev. Rogers is particularly well fitted to evaluate the effects of this world's most destructive war, on men and property.

The church tower often the highest building in a community was suspected of being an observation post and was often the first target for attack by foe and friend alike. Upon investigation it was often found this was not the case. In every war torn country the destruction of churches and their benevolent institutions is beyond comprehension. The toll of civilian life is far greater than suspected.

War stimulates the passions of the flesh, putting to a severe test the character of each individual in the armed service. Some surrender to their passions, some develop a beautiful character by resisting. The effect of war on Europe has been tragic. In every period of world history religion has been the greatest power in rebuilding and improving the moral and material welfare of its people.

The unsound and destructive philosophy promulgated by a group of self seeking leaders has opposed and often destroyed the doctrine of true Christianity, to love God with all our heart and mind and might and our fellowmen as ourselves. This command still stands and is the challenge to every true Christian to counter attack with love and sacrifice not only to regain the losses sustained by the curse of this tragic war, but to attain and assist in creating a New World more fully in harmony with the beautiful and constructive principles of true Christianity and the church. The challenge is up to every man. Let every man counter-attack now.

A pleasing number of evening was a violin solo by Master Tom Barlow accompanied by Mrs. Emil Jacobson. Hosts for the evening were Leo Bushey, Hugo Carlson, Lawrence Carlson and Robert Carlson.

Sec. Schroyer Will Address Route 6 Group

Purpose for which the Pennsylvania Free Roads Association was organized will be outlined at a meeting of the Roosevelt Highway Association on Friday, November 16 at 12:15 p. m. at the Penn-Wells Hotel, Wellsboro.

The Free Roads Association, a State-wide organization, is urging modernization of all primary highways. It is seeking free roads, not toll roads, and favors roads that provide easy access, not limited access, to Pennsylvania communities.

Improvement of U. S. Route 6 will be discussed at the meeting. Representative business men from communities along U. S. Route 6 from Erie to Port Jarvis have been invited to attend.

Scheduled speakers include John U. Shroyer, Secretary of Highways; Howard Wittinger, Gettysburg, acting field secretary of the Free Roads group, and Raymond B. Gibbs, general secretary, of the Scranton Chamber of Commerce and secretary of the Roosevelt Highway Association.

To the People of this Community

Lieut. Gen. Robert Eichelberger, commander of the Eighth U. S. Army, said upon his arrival in the Tokyo area:

"This is the beach-head where I was supposed to land in the invasion of Japan. I certainly never expected to get here without a shot being fired at me."

The ease with which we have taken over Japan is due in part to the tremendous might of our armament. Billions of dollars of your war bonds are represented by the huge naval forces, air forces and magnificent armies and supplies, which we were getting ready for "D-Day Japan."

The sudden ending of the war did not wipe out the costs.

You are now called upon in the Victory Loan to buy extra Victory Bonds to foot the bill. The victory bill is being paid in extra loans to your government instead of the extra expenditure of American lives on the beaches of Japan.

POST-WAR ILLINOIS

When the last shot is fired in World War II, Illinois will be ready to take the job of filling the backlog of villain orders from farms and factories. Its manufactured products, worth $6,232,863,000 in 1929, may again reach that figure and add to the wealth of the Nation, guaranteeing War Bonds. New Motor Fuel Heralded By Huge Newspaper Campaign

(Special to the Times-Mirror) Philadelphia, Nov. 13—Heralded by the biggest newspaper campaign in the history of Sun Oil Company, that organization's new motor fuel, Dynafuel, is now being offered to motorists everywhere, according to an announcement made today at Sunoco's headquarters.

Long promised by the company, long awaited by millions of motorists, Sunoco Dynafuel is not just another new gasoline, but a new kind of super power for American automobiles. In speaking of this historic milestone in the progress of American motoring, one official said, "America's victory in the air was won largely because of high octane aviation fuel produced in mass quantities by catalytic cracking, a process first developed for major production by Sun Oil Company."

"Sun Oil engineering research was carried into the secrets of the molecular construction of gasoline itself. Sun engineers found out how to tear apart petroleum molecules and put them together again in an entirely new pattern, making possible this new type of super fuel.

Known to engineers is the fact that gasoline, heavy molecules are low in octane quality, light molecules are high octane. However, and this is the big difference, in Dynafuel, both the heavy and light molecules deliver equally high octane power, thus giving uniformly high knockless performance in all cylinders."

Sun Oil Company also announced that its policy, which was in effect before the war, of marketing only one grade of gasoline, will again be in effect. All of its extensive facilities will be devoted to the marketing of Sunoco Dynafuel exclusively.

In 1918, the military forces of the allies consumed about 39,000 barrels of gasoline a day. In World War II, the total was 800,000 a day.

"Today, while goods are scarce and inflation is a danger, I think you should plan to save me—and most of your other dollars—plan to spend me later when I'll help buy a house or an education for your children. I'll feel better about that, and so will you."

Youngsville BPW Has Fine Session

Youngsville, Nov. 13.—Mrs. R. L. Mead entertained the Business and Professional Women's Club at her home Monday evening. With Mrs. Elizabeth Canfield and Mrs. Helen Zahner as assisting hostesses.

Miss Gertrude Ostroski, president, presided at the business session and thanked all those who assisted in making the recent district convention so successful. Miss Matilda Kamber rear an interesting communication concerning business women, with many suggestions as to ways of improving personality, appearance and business efficiency.

An invitation was received and accepted by the B. P. W. Club from the Girl Scouts, who are sponsored by the local B. P. W. The note invited the members to the Girl Scouts' guests at their party to be held in the school gymnasium Monday, November 19, from 7:30 to 8:30 p. m. A feature of this evening will be the "Fly-Up" ceremony.

Plans were also made for the annual Christmas party with Rose Hubert as chairman and Matilda Kamber and Ruby Ransom as co-chairmen. Gifts are to be exchanged and some good cheer for all was planned.

Following the business session, Miss Knapp, as program chairman, introduced E. C. Stillings, who gave a most interesting talk on the subject of the "Atomic Bomb." He discussed very candidly the importance of this new discovery on world conditions.

Mrs. Helker, of the high school faculty, pleased with several piano solos. Miss Matilda Kamber and Mrs. Helker also played duet numbers.

A delicious luncheon was served by the committee. Armistice Day was remembered in the flag favors and luncheon appointments.

IRVINE LADIES' UNION HAS SESSION

Irvine, Nov. 13.—Mrs. Ernest Oviatt entertained 13 members of the Ladies' Union and one visitor Mrs. Redmond of Youngsville, on Thursday evening. In the absence of the president, the Scripture lesson was read by Mrs. Oviatt, who chose the 92nd Psalm as appropriate for "the approaching Thanksgiving season." The Lord's Prayer was repeated in unison, followed by the reading of minutes and roll call. Members furnished the program, with assorted readings and Mrs. N. B. Huling reading Governor Martin's Thanksgiving proclamation, in which he urges prayers for Thanksgiving Day.

During the business session it was decided to hold the December meeting on the 13th instead of the 20th, in the form of a 6:30 o'clock chicken dinner at the NFO club-house, members to bring a turkey and a 50-cent gift for exchange. Mrs. Paul Nickles was appointed chairman for this affair, with the privilege of naming her aides. It is hoped that all members can be present. The free will offering taken at this meeting added much to the treasury.

For the enjoyable social hour, Mrs. Oviatt served refreshments suggestive of Thanksgiving, with the dining room table centered with a pretty arrangement of chrysanthemums and orange tapers.

SPINSTERS ELECT OFFICERS FOR YEAR

Holding their regular meeting last evening at the home of Mrs. David Beatty, 312 Conewango avenue, members of the First Presbyterian Spinster Class elected the following officers to serve for the coming year: President, Martina Svirak; re-elected; vice president, Mrs. William Schwartz; re-elected; secretary, Mrs. Mae McDermott; assistant secretary, Mrs. Harold Smith; treasurer, Nell Milenius, re-elected.

Mrs. Warren R. Carlin officiated as auctioneer for the white elephant sale, funds going to the group's White Christmas Fund. Announcement was made that the December meeting will be held in the church parlors in the form of a Christmas party.

DOUBLE PURPOSE IN ENJOYABLE PARTY

A very happy gathering of 22 relatives was held last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry R. Baxter, 111 West street, honoring Mrs. Baxter's mother, Mrs. Henry Erickson, who was celebrating her 82nd birthday anniversary, and Harry Baxter, Jr., who left today for navy training at Williamsburg, Va.

The event was arranged by Mrs. Baxter and her sisters, Mrs. Elmer Lundahl, Mrs. Walter Johnson and Miss Charlotte Jackson. The refreshments served at the close of the evening centered about a birthday cake, and both honored guests were presented with remembrances of the occasion.

LITERATURE DEPT. HAS BOOK TALK

Mrs. Gerald Archibald was guest speaker for the Monday afternoon meeting of the Warren Times-Mirror Literature Department, talking on children's story books and having with her a collection of volumes suitable for gifts for youngsters.

Mrs. Ernest Hagenlocher was hostess for tea, with Mrs. Frank Wood and Mrs. E. E. Kleschauer pouring.

Next Monday's meeting will be that of the Community Service Department, with Warren Miller of the high school faculty speaking on "The Amish, Their Identity and Characteristics."

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Betty Lou Emerson, 306 Beech street, entertained 14 of her little friends at her home on Friday in celebration of her birthday anniversary. Decorations of pink were repeated in the large birthday cake. Betty received many lovely gifts, also a purse of money, from her little friends. These present were:

Since the number of dinner reservations is limited by the capacity of the YV, members are asked to contact at once the following ticket committee in charge of Adele Erickson: Seniors and Club "17", Jean Smith, Dale Holcomb, Jack Harrington, Bill Carter, juniors, sophomores and "Preps", Betty Jean Koppie, Janet Tritt, Sally Smith, Bill Fuedlhart, Albert Marrer; freshmen and eighth grade (Green Caps), Ruth Davis, John Elliott, Nancy Geracimos, Dick Smith, Nancy Pettibone.

College Women to Sponsor Lecture

The Association of College Women held its November meeting at the home of Mrs. David Beatty, 312 Conewango avenue. One new member, Meredith Jones, was accepted into the club.

Philip Benjamin, librarian at Allegheny College, gave a fine talk on "Fiction in Wartime". His familiarity with authors and books associated with both World War I and II led to a lively discussion at the end of his talk.

To conclude the evening, refreshments were served by Mrs. The Wendelboe and her committee.

KALBFUS AUXILIARY The Kalbfus Auxiliary of the Kalbfus Rod and Gun Club, will have a one o'clock luncheon at the clubhouse on Thursday, Mrs. S. D. Blackman and Mrs. W. E. Yeager forming the committee. Those wishing to arrange for transportation are asked to call 39-J.

Refreshments were served from a table attractively appointed in the golden wedding motif and the couple received many remembrances of a very happy occasion.

LAURA WHEELER DESIGNS

Friends of Hubert Zwald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Zwald, 314 Jackson avenue, will be interested to learn of his marriage on November 4 to Miss Bertha Mullin, of North Carolina.

The ceremony was performed in the American Cathedral in Paris and the newlyweds are honeymooning in the Riviera until November 14, when both will be honorably discharged from the army to accept civil service positions for Uncle Sam. They will make their home in Paris for a year. Both are talented musicians, the bride an accomplished organist, and they plan to continue their music studies in the French capital.

PAK feels most fortunate in having secured the promise of Chauncey E. Davis, general secretary of the Hazleton YMCA, to be guest speaker for its Thanksgiving dinner-dance on Friday, November 23, at the YVCA, when several members will be back for the holiday and a large attendance is anticipated. Mr. Davis was on the staff of the local Y from 1935 to 1940, when he became general secretary of the Clearfield YM. He remained there three years before going to Hazleton. While here, Chauncey, as everyone knew him, was one of the most popular boys' work secretaries the Warren Y has ever had. He conducted a very aggressive program for boys, with Gray-Y clubs organized in all the grade schools and with hundreds enrolled in an extensive craft and hobby program, one of the most popular of which was his Magic Club. Mr. Davis is one who loves and understands young people and will have a message of real worth for PAK members.

Golden Wedding Is Pleasing Affair

More than 100 relatives and friends were guests Sunday for the open house held by Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Fehlmann, Follett Run road, in celebration of their golden wedding anniversary.

Among these was Mrs. Fehlmann's mother, Mrs. Susan Jerman, who celebrated her 97th birthday anniversary in August, and was present for most of the day's festivities.

Besides Mrs. Jerman, four generations were represented: Her daughter, Mrs. Fehlmann; Mrs. Fehlmann's son, Arthur, of Erie, his son, Willis, with the navy in Chicago; and Robert, nine months old son of Willis.

The Fehlmanns have two children, Arthur, of Erie, and Warren, at home. Children of the former are Willis, chief radio technician, Navy Pier, Chicago; Francis, recently discharged from the navy; Maurice, still in service in California; Alice and Doris, of Erie.

Out of town guests for the day included Mr. and Mrs. Steve Jerman and two daughters, Joan and Jean, Mrs. Kate Snapp and daughter, Alice, Miss Cecilia Jerman, all of Kane.

Refreshments were served from a table attractively appointed in the golden wedding motif and the couple received many remembrances of a very happy occasion.

Beyond Tomorrow

By Helen R. Woodward

Chapter 28

DR. PATTERSON came in early to speak to Anne the morning of the operation. "Before you get too doped," he said smiling, "I want to tell you that I'm going to try as I've never tried before. Will you tell me that you are not afraid—that you have confidence in me?"

"In you," she said, "and in that Higher Destiny that watches over us always. I am not afraid, doctor, and I trust you perfectly."

"Thank you, my dear. Is there anything you want or need?"

"Nothing—except—if John Lowell should come, may I see him for a moment?"

"Yes, of course. But I've left orders for the nurse to give you a hypodermic soon. You probably won't know it when you get up-stairs. I'll be going now—God bless you, Anne."

The nurses and internes all stood aside to let the great man pass. "Oh, John," Anne's heart was crying. "Why don't you come! You promised!"

The nurse came in and injected the needle into her arm. Soon the objects in the room began to grow dim, to recede and come back again as if they were on wings. There was a stir at the doorway and the nurse said, "Come in, Major Lowell. Just for a minute, though—I think she's almost asleep now."

John stood by the bedside looking down at her. Her eyes tried to focus on him but he was whirling about so madly she was not sure he was really there. She must have dreamed, he said. "Darling—darling—I'm going to do what you asked—pray for you. It may not go very high—but I've got to try—I've just got to!"

She thought it was such a lovely dream, to have John standing there saying those tender words just as if he really did love her and was not going to get his first love back after all.

Anne thought she mustn't cry—she must be brave like Eve had been when Garret died—she must be made strong and courageous and polished through suffering. They all belonged to some sort of an organization. Dr. Conover had named it. He was the head of it, she supposed. It was called the "fraternity of suffering." You belonged to it when someone you loved had died. And now that John was dead—! She cried out in pain.

The nurse said, "There now, it's all over. She's going to be all right. You people had better go and get some rest. It may be several hours before she comes out from under the anesthetic."

It was as if she were floating in white waves of fog. It lifted her up and rocked her gently to and fro, blotting out feeling. But every once in a while the fog would lift and a searing pain would tear along the flesh of her legs. When she cried out she felt a strong hand close over hers and she clung to it for dear life. She couldn't quite make out what hand it was, but she had a feeling that if she let go of that hand she would drift out so far into that ocean of fog that she would never come back.

ON the morning that Anne came back to full consciousness John Lowell stood outside her door in the corridor and talked to Mrs. Winslow.

"The doctor says she's out of danger now," he told Anne's mother. "So I guess she won't need me." Wayne McDowell was in town—Carol King told me she wrote him about Anne's operation and he came at once. I know Anne's been grieving over him all the time—she's never stopped loving him. So now that she's back again in time, they will more than likely go forward with plans for their wedding. So will you please tell Anne for me that I won't come back any more—unless she should send for me. Will you tell her that, Mrs. Winslow?"

Mrs. Winslow had never felt so unable to meet any situation. "But don't you think you had better tell Anne tell you her plans—about her feeling for Wayne?"

He shook his head, smiling that bitter, merciless smile. "I'm not mistaken," he answered. "You just tell her what I said."

Chapter 29

ANNE looked at Wayne standing there beside her bed and smiled sadly as she shook her head. "I'm sorry, Wayne—but it's all gone. That lovely feeling I had for you—I just don't have it any more. I'm sorry—but that's the way it is!"

"But Anne, if I try hard to win you back—"

"No, Wayne—I'm sorry—but there's nothing about it. It's just—all over. And Wayne, Carol loves you very much."

He went away after a time, still not sure that he had lost her, still confident that something would happen to change her mind.

Dr. Patterson came in to tell her goodbye. "I've got to be getting on, Anne," he said. "Other duties, you know. It's quite safe now to leave you with the doctors here to care for you. And my dear, I'm happy to report that so far I can tell, there's no reason why you should not be walking again in a few months!"

She held his hand very tightly. "I'll never, never forget you, Doctor. Thank you so very much for coming to help me."

"Perhaps I have repaid in some little part our debt to you, my dear!"

Her mother had given her John Lowell's message—that he would not come again unless she sent for him. And that, she resolved, he must not do again.

She had seen the notice of Madeline Carlton's divorce in the newspaper and had come to the place where she avoided reading anything but the headlines. For she would find the announcement of Madeline's engagement to marriage to John. She lived in a constant state of suppressed emotion—a blending of fear and despair that held back her complete recovery. The doctors said he should have been walking by this time, but she had worked herself up to a state in which she could rather die than take those last few steps alone.

"If you'll just take my arm," her father would urge, "I believe you could walk a few steps. Anne, just think how happy it would

Dealers May Sell New Cars On First Come or Other Basis

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Nov. 10—(AP)—Are you going to wait your turn and pay only the regular ceiling price on a new car?

Or—because they won't be rationed and so many people want them—will you try to slip the dealer something extra to sell you one?

Dealers can sell the new unrationed cars on a first-come-first-served basis or any way they please.

There'll be no government controls except for the ceiling prices which OPA will announce in a few days.

Evasion of those ceilings are violations of the law. They are punishable by fines or imprisonment. Once the sales start, OPA will keep watch to see that the price ceilings are not being evaded.

The national automobile dealers association says the majority of the dealers will deal honestly with customers but that the association will not vouch for all because there may be a crook here or there, as there is everywhere.

Assuming that the majority of dealers will play fair, this story will speak of those who might not.

Ceilings can be evaded with the connivance of a customer or by a dealer taking advantage of a customer's desire for a new car. It could work like this:

1. By side payments or bonuses.
2. Unreasonable trade-in allowance.
3. Upgrading. A dealer could charge a more expensive car price for a cheaper car.
4. By selling a place in line. For instance: A dealer tells Jones, 87th on the list for a new car, that maybe Smith, 3rd in line, will let him take his place because Smith doesn't want a new car now. But Smith charges Jones $100 for letting him take his place. Yet all the time Smith is in cahoots with the dealer.

Already a lot of people have made down payments on the new cars which haven't reached the dealers yet.

Harvey Diamond, chief of OPA's automotive enforcement branch, says it is useless before sales are completed to try to learn whether these down-payments are really side-payments or bonuses.

But Diamond says OPA will move in when the sales start and begin checking on dealers.

BROADWAY

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK—Critic George Jean Nathan walked out on one of Gypsy Rose Lee's lavish parties in her huge, 26-room mansion, when he discovered photographers were there, with complete equipment, to record the occasion for posterity, or at least as long as one issue of a magazine can lie around a dentist's office.

Far from being embarrassed by this perfidious exit, Gypsy managed to garner quite a chunk of columnar space thereby.

A practitioner of the Broadway psychology that any publicity, however discouraging, is okay so long as the name is spelled correctly, Gypsy has turned every unlikely circumstance into veritable spotlights playing upon her various careers with technical brilliance.

ONCE a shabbily-paid vaudeville youngster, later a richly-rewarded strip teaser in the finest Minsky tradition, Gypsy came of age from a safe society standpoint when the public and the press made much of the fact that she combined peeling off her clothes with hardly apropos discussions of Freud, Jung and Proust. This literary addition to the normal technique of burlesque undraping obscured, or at least got the audience's mind off, the fact that she didn't take off nearly as much as some of the other dolls, and that she didn't have the most sensational figure in the world, or even in Minsky's, although even an anatomical cynic had to admit it was pretty good.

From that hardly aesthetic start, Gypsy now is the darling of the sophisticates, a novelist, playwright, friend of the famous, proprietor of the loudest "Dahling!" at opening nights, and this endearing term, now just another way of saying "Hi," is directed at only the most glittering personages, such as Elsa Maxwell, Miriam Hopkins, George S. Kaufman, Moss Hart, and any, or I should say all, of a few thousand famous personages who might show up at a Broadway premiere, the Stork's Club Room, Sardi's, or any Park Avenue party.

RIGHT now Gypsy has no time for burlesque, or even playing in the more dignified precincts of the drama. She is writing a book, "mostly autobiographical," she says; has a play about a quarter finished, is doing a monthly piece for a magazine and is trying sometimes to act like a mother for her son Erik, whose actor-father is Alexander Kirkland, from whom Gypsy now is divorced.

Without Painful Backache

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 8 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatism, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up, getting down, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

"We'll Score In The Palm - - - - - By Mun' and Chip Royal On the Army." Says Munger

By HERB ALTSCHULL
Philadelphia, Nov. 12—(P)—Penn's "bunch of kids" might have been a bit scared of Army last year, Coach George Munger said today, "but we're not afraid now—they're not supermen."

The Cadets smothered Penn 62-7 last year, but says Munger, "The kids made a lot of mistakes and some of them might have directly set up touchdowns."

On Saturday, before a sellout crowd of 70,000 at Franklin Field, the one-beater Quakers met Army, victorious in its last 16 gridiron battles.

"We don't expect to win," Munger said, "but we're not lying down."

Scout Horace Hendrickson came back to Philadelphia after witnessing Army pulverize Notre Dame, 48-0, with they're "beyond any competition. That Blanchard and Davis can do anything."

He wouldn't make any comparison between the Cadet and Quaker lines, but Munger figures Penn's forward wall can almost match Army's.

Penn has held the running attack of six opponents—including Navy and Columbia—to a virtual standstill.

The left side of the Penn line, Munger says, is perhaps without peer. End Frank Jenkins, tackle George Savitsky and guard Joe Dickerson crashed through to toss highly touted Gene Rossides of Columbia for loss after loss when he attempted to pass.

Dickerson personally recovered four fumbles against Navy, Savitsky blocked a kick and recovered two bobbles against Columbia and Jenkins, in addition to snagging six touchdown passes, has protected his flank like a hawk.

"We'll score," says Munger. "It's just up to the line to hold army."

22-Game Cage Schedule For Dragons This Season; Erie Technical Is New Opponent

A 22-game cage card faces mentor Joseph A. Massa and his crew of basketball aspirants. It was announced recently by J. B. Leidig, athletic director at the High School.

Some 150 boys went into the first tryout sessions yesterday afternoon at the High School and Beaty as the Dragons began to prepare for one of their toughest court seasons in many years. A schedule that includes highly-touted Erie Tech as well as the usual strong Section Two, District Ten teams and regular opponents.

The Dragons open their 1945-6 campaign two weeks from next Friday night, November 30, against Youngsville's Eagles on Beaty court. On the following Tuesday, they engage St. Marys here, and then trek to Jamestown on December 7. All told, twelve opponents will oppose the Dragons this season.

Some eighty senior and junior boys performed before Massa yesterday at the high school gym, and in the meantime some seventy were showing their stuff at Beaty under the watchful eye of assistant coach Harry Hutelings. This number will probably be decreased to a squad of about 30.

Following these tryout sessions, the Dragons will move into regular drill sessions next Monday at three o'clock on Beaty court. Massa

BOWLING

MOOSE LEAGUE
Winners scored a three-point victory over Irwins, and Morrills and Busy Bee split with two games apiece in Moose League action last night.

H. Yaegle paced the winning Winers with a 206 single and a 518 total, while H. Christman turned in a 199 single and J. Perry totaled 349 for the losers. In the other match, G. Johnson led the Busy Bee with a 222 single roll and a 586 three-game count, and Steinkamp's 203 single and Stancliffe's 573 were high for Morrills.

Pacific Grid Experts Vote Against Army

New York, Nov. 13—(P)—Army's amazing victory over Notre Dame Saturday convinced virtually everyone but the Pacific Coast football experts that the Cadets are the No. 1 college grid team in the country.

Of the 20 votes cast in the San Francisco region, 13 of the critics relegated Army, No. 1 team all season in the weekly Associated Press poll, to second and gave five firsts to Navy, four to St. Mary's and four to Alabama.

As it was, Army garnered 91 first place nominations and grabbed second on each of the remaining ballots.

Navy, which showed its best form of the season in downing Michigan Saturday, moved into the runner-up slot behind the team the Mideers will meet in Philadelphia on Dec. 1. The Sailors climbed from fourth place while Notre Dame skidded from second to seventh.

Alabama retained third place and was followed in order by Indiana, St. Mary's, Pennsylvania, Notre Dame, Oklahoma A and M, Ohio State and Holy Cross.

Michigan and Columbia, two members of the elite group a week ago, dropped out following their defeats Saturday and their places were taken by the Oklahoma Aggies and Holy Cross, a pair of unbeaten outfits.

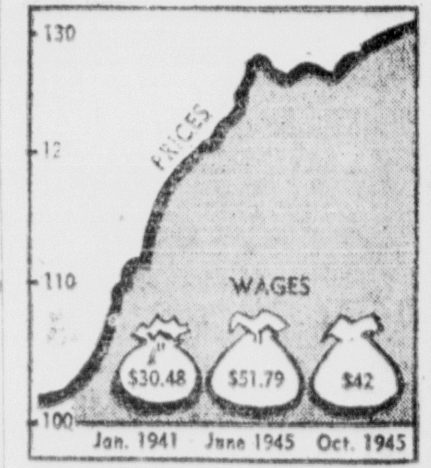

Chart above shows how average weekly earnings in durable goods industries, where most serious labor conflicts exist, went from $30.48 in January, 1941 to $51.79 in June, 1945, and down to $42 in October, 1945. Graph-line shows 30 per cent rise in consumer prices during same period.

Meadville Society Editor Is Honored

Meadville, Nov. 13.—(P)—The Charles N. Stafford Post of the American Legion last night presented a certificate of merit to Gertrude Dee Thomas, society editor of the Tribune Newspapers here, for her work with the Victory Volunteers.

Miss Thomas organized the Volunteers in October, 1941, and has been serving as chairman since then. The object of the group was to aid the war effort and help service men.

The Volunteers presented a gift box to each soldier and sailor leaving Meadville and at Christmas time sent a gift to every service man and woman from the Meadville area. Last year the number of gifts totaled 2,500; this year, about 2,100.

Miss Thomas also published a Victory Bond News Letter credited with helping make bond drives successful in this area.

Fresh Signs Of Dissension at Conference

Washington, Nov. 13.—(P)—The labor-management conference recessed today amid fresh signs of friction on labor's side of the table.

A CIO-Auto Workers contention that John L. Lewis secretly had taken his United Mine Workers back into the American Federation of Labor led to the latest brush.

The contention—quickly denied by Lewis and the AFL—was voiced by Richard T. Frankenstein, vice president of the CIO-Auto Workers Union who told a news conference such a reaffiliation would give the AFL another vote in the conference.

Labor's 18 votes are divided four ways, with eight each for the AFL and CIO and one each for Lewis' UMW and T. C. Cashen, representing the Railroad Brotherhoods. The United States Chamber of Commerce and the National Association of Manufacturers split industry's 18 votes evenly.

Associates of Lewis denied the Frankenstein report, which the Auto Workers official said he had over "very good information" and AFL President William Green told newsmen it was "bunk". CIO President Philip Murray said he knew nothing about it.

BULLETINS

Washington, Nov. 13.—(P)—A congressional Pearl Harbor investigator today quoted J. Edgar Hoover as saying the FBI had information on Nov. 26, 1941, that "war was imminent." The statement was made to reporters by Rep. Gearhart (R-Calif.), member of the senate-house committee looking into the circumstances surrounding the successful Japanese attack on the fleet at Hawaii Dec. 7, 1941.

Forums Scheduled For This Evening

This is a busy season for members of the Warren High School Dramatics Club. Because of their many activities, two meeting dates are necessary for this week. This evening the following forums will meet at the high school at 7:00: Makeup, Properties, Technical Effects, Lighting, and Costumes. On Thursday the forums meeting will be: Director's and Stage.

Jean MacLaren, head of Makeup, will lead her group in a discussion of advanced character makeup. The chief feature of this will be a demonstration of the proper technique in applying beads. Roberta Rohrer, who has charge of Properties, will give her group, instruction in property detail. Certain sound effects for the junior play, "Best Foot Forward," are problems confronting those working on Technical Effects.

This forum is directed by Carol Kirberger. The Lighting Forum, headed by Bill Carter, will discuss effective lighting for the Junior Play and other forthcoming productions. In addition to their work in planning costumes for the junior play, the Costume Forum, led by Elvia Lowe, will have a guest speaker, Miss Marie Weissenfluh, who directs the home economics activities of the school. Miss Weissenfluh will lead a discussion on "Color and Line in Costuming."

The Director's Forum under the guidance of Mrs. Stanley, will be working on further plans for a Christmas assembly and the club Christmas party. Scripts for the senior class play are also being read. Bill Yeager and his group will put up the set for the junior play, "Best Foot Forward" on Thursday evening.

Halsey Powell Survivor Home

Lawrence Mesler, seaman first class, is home on 30-day leave with his family. He has been in the service since July 22, 1943, and a member of the crew of the USS Halsey Powell for 20 months, serving both in the Atlantic and Pacific.

He has really seen a few places, judging from the following list of battle stations: Marshalls, Saipan, Tinian, Guam, Carolines, Leyte, Palau, Mindanao, Hong Kong, Luzon, Iwo Jima, Okinawa, Kyushu, Tokyo and Yokohama. Seaman Mesler was wounded on March 20 of this year off Kyushu, Japan, when a Jap suicide plane went through the Halsey Powell and nearly sunk it, killing 12 men and wounding 29. The plane plunged through the deck of the vessel and passed out the starboard side. The exploding gasoline enveloped the after end and the ship began to sink at the stern. For three days the crew battled to keep the ship afloat, while enemy planes attacked overhead. Seaman Mesler holds the Purple Heart and Commendation ribbon; also rates ten battle stars. He has just been released after eight months in the hospital and will report to Buffalo on November 26.

Kid Cobbler

Cobbling is serious business with 2½-year-old Jerry Roger Nicharot, challenger for the title of the nation's youngest shoemaker. His dad has a shoe repair shop in Cleveland, Ohio, and ever since the boy was a year old, according to the elder Nicharot, he has been a real help, specializing in nailing on heels, as pictured, above.

"Amazing how long he keeps that car running!"

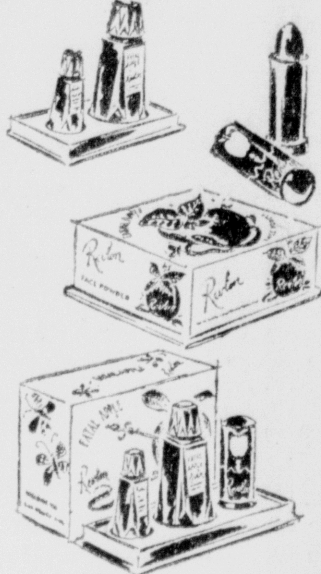

Regular service can do a lot for a good car—old or new. If you drive a PLYMOUTH, DODGE, DE SOTO or CHRYSLER, your dealer can apply the experience, equipment and factory-engineered MOPAR parts to provide good, regular service.
